FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Resolutions from Texas Convention--National Currency Bill Passed in the Senate--Kentucky Contested Election Case Expatriation Rights--Revenue on Distilled Spirits--The Commerce Bill--Chinese Embassy --Texas Asks for Protection from Assassins and Robbers.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 17, 1868.

The CHAIR submitted a communication from the Constitutional Convention of Texas, transmitting resolutions adopted by the Convention, requesting a change in the law, at the earliest moment, authorizing the Commander of the District to appoint Registers of Election. Referred to Committee on Judiciary.

Also, a communication from the Secretary of War transmitting the draft of the proposed law in relation to Judge Advocates of the Army. Referred to Committee on Military affairs.

Also, a communication from Maj. Gen. Sheridan, Commander of the District of Missouri, urging that the Central Pacific Railroad be completed from Atchison to Ft. Leavenworth. Referred to Committee on the Pacific Railroad.

Mr. WILSON introduced a joint resolution to remit the duties on certain religious books donated to people of the United States. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. WILSON also introduced a joint resolution authorizing the sale of damaged or unserviceable arms, ordnance and ordnance stores. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the Committee on Judiciary, recommended the indefinite postponement of several bills in relation to the establishment of a uniform system of bankruptcy. Agreed to.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN, the bill in relation to national currency was again taken up.

Mr. CAMERON denounced the first section, forbidding any National bank from paying interest on the balances of any other, a shaving boon, got up for the purpose of enabling the city banks to use the funds of country banks without paying for them. He desired the subject should be deferred until next session, but since it was to be considered he moved to strike out the first section.

Mr. CHANDLER also opposed the first section.

Mr. SPRAGUE took the floor, but was shortly interrupted by the announcement of the Chinese Embassy.

Mr. SUMNER presented the guests, and the President pro tem made a brief speech of welcome, during which time there was a general hand-shaking and conversation through interpretors with the Orientals.

The President pro tem again called the Senate to order, and the Embassy retired without ceremony.

Mr. SPRAGUE resumed the floor, and spoke against all inflation. He would vote for the motion to strike out, and hoped the whole subject would be tabled.

Mr. HENDRICKS would vote to strike out the first section, as in his opinion the matter should be left to the banking interest to regulate for themselves.

Shortly before two o'clock, the CHAIR laid before the Senate a telegraphic dispatch from the Constitutional Convention of Texas, dated Austin, June 16th, forwarding resolutions just adopted, on which they ask the action of Congress. The resolutions, after reciting the lawlessness existing in certain portions of the State, urge upon Congress the necessity of authorizing the organization, by the Convention, of a military force in several counties to act in connection with the Military Commander, for whom they express confidence, for the purpose of protecting the lives and property of their citizens, now preyed upon by assassins and robbers, and assert that otherwise they will be obliged to organize for their own defence.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

After further discussion the first section of the currency bill was struck out by a vote of 36 to 11.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEM, who would have voted aye, was paired with Mr. Drake, and Mr. Davis, who would have voted nay, with Mr. Thayer.

Mr. SHERMAN then offered his substitute for the fifth section, providing for the better distribution of National Bank currency, an amount not exceeding twenty millions may be issued to banking associations organized in States and Territories having a less circulation than five dollars per inhabitant, and that within one year the same shall be withdrawn pro rata from banks in States and Territories having an amount in excess of their proportion under the act of March 3d, 1864, to ascertain which the Comptroller of Currency is to make a statement showing the amount to be retired by each of such banks, and to make requisition upon them, commencing with those having the largest excess, and in case of failure to furnish it, it is made the duty of the Comptroller of Currency to sell at auction a sufficient amount of bonds held to secure the circulation of such banks.

The bill having passed through Committee,

Mr. MORRILL, Vt., again offered his amendment, voted down in Committee, to strike out section five and insert, that upon the issue of any such national circulation provided for in this section, the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and required to permanently withdraw an equal amount of U. S. notes. Rejected without division.

Mr. FESSENDEN moved to amend by adding the following: Provided that the circulation herein authorized shall be issued as only circulation is withdrawn, so the aggregate circulation shall not at any time exceed $300,000,000. Agreed to.

Mr. SHERMAN'S amendment was also agreed to.

Mr. RAMSAY offered an amendment, prepared, he said, by the Comptroller of Currency, as an additional section, authorizing changes of the name or location of National banks upon application to the Comptroller of Currency, and public notice given, which was rejected—11 to 23.

Mr. DAVIS offered the following as an additional section: That all laws imposing any tax on circulating notes of issue made by any bank of any State or Territory, or imposing any tax in any form on such banks, be and the same are hereby repealed. Rejected without division.

The bill then passed by the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Bucksalew, Cattell, Chandler, Cole, Cragin, Davis, Doolittle, Ferry, Harlan, Henderson, Howard, McCreery, Nye, Patterson, (N. H.,) Patterson (Tenn.,) Pomeroy, Ramsay, Ross, Sherman, Stewart, Sumner, Van Winkle, Wade, Willey, and Wilson—25.

Nays—Messrs. Anthony, Bayard, Cameron, Conkling, Edmunds, Fessenden, Howe, Hendricks, Morgan, Sprague, Trumbull, Vickers, Williams, Yates—14.

Mr. Morrill (Vt.), who would have voted aye, paired with Mr. Morrill (Me.), opposed.

The bill now goes to the House.

Mr. HOWARD tried to call up the bill relative to the Union Pacific Railroad Company, but a motion to go into Executive session prevailed.

Meantime the bill for the removal of political disabilities came over from the House, with a request for a Committee of Conference on amendments, which was ordered.

After a short Executive session, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. COOK, from the Committee on Elections, reported Mr. McKee entitled to a seat from the Ninth Kentucky District. He will call the resolution up next week.

Mr. INGERSOLL offered a resolution directing the Committee of Ways and Means to consider and report on the subject of tax on capital, deposits and circulation of national and other banks of issue, in connection with the bill directed to be prepared.

Mr. RANDALL suggested to include also tax on Government deposits.

Mr. INGERSOLL so modified the resolution and it was agreed to.

Mr. JULIAN introduced a bill for the sale of the Hot Springs Reservation in Arkansas. Referred.

Mr. VAN WYCK asked leave to offer a preamble and resolution on the subject of American naturalized citizens, directing the President to demand immediately from any foreign government that may have imprisoned American citizens for words spoken in this country an acknowledgement as complete and ample as was made by the United States government in the apology for the arrest of Mason and Slidell, and demand reparation in all instances, and report what he has done to secure such rights and redress of wrongs.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pa. said this was a very grave matter. The resolution asserted a great many things about which he knew nothing. He desired to abate it.

The res lution went over under the rule.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pa., offered a resolution instructing the Ways and Means Committee to enquire into the expediency of reporting a bill to collect revenue on distilled spirits on the principle of taxing the capacity of still and apparatus, making due allowance for waste, to certain provisions like the following: first, call in expert builders and operators and ascertain the utmost quantity a still can produce in twenty-four hours, constant running; second, let the distiller take out a license for such time as he may choose to operate, paying or giving good security to pay tax on all spirits that can be produced within the period of the license; third, if the distiller shall be found to overrun the period of license, he shall be subject to imprisonment in the penitentiary; fourth, if any one shall be found to have distilled spirits without a license he shall be held subject to like imprisonment; fifth, If there be any unoccupied distillery the key shall be given to a revenue officer, who shall be heavily punished if he suffer the premises to go into the hands of another person for the purpose of using them; sixth, the keeper of any concealed still shall be heavily punished.

The resolution was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

The SPEAKER presented resolutions of the Texas Convention. Referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. WASHBURNE, Mass., from Committee on Claims, reported a bill to provide for the distribution of the reward offered by the President for the capture of Jefferson Davis. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

Mr. WASHBURNE, Ind., from Committee on Military Affairs, made a report as to the burying of Confederate dead in Antietam Cemetery. Ordered printed and recommitted.

The House proceeded to the consideration, as the special order, of the bill reported by Mr. Eliot, from Committee on Commerce to promote American Commerce.

Mr. ELIOT addressed the House on the National importance of the bill, the provisions of which have already been published.

Mr. MORRILL moved to amend the second section by providing that in order that American lumber, cordage, iron, copper, chains, and anchors might be used in the construction of American vessels, there should be allowed a bounty equal to the drawback of duty on these materials actually used in construction.

Mr. ELDRIDGE opposed the amendment, claiming that the bill had steered clear of anything like bounty.

Mr. BLAIN opposed the bill, claiming that depression in the ship building interest was not caused by the laws of the country. All interests in the country were depressed, and he undertook to say that if the copper of foreign countries was admitted free of duty for ship building purposes, the copper mines on Lake Superior would have to be closed. The proposed drawback on copper was simply a blow struck at that interest, and the arguments in support of it would apply equally as well against the whole protection system of the country. He believed the enterprise of the American people would remedy all present difficulties about commerce and the carrying trade. There was no necessity for this bill, which undertook to save one interest by striking down another interest of equal importance. He proposed to amend the bill by striking out the second section. The other sections he had no objection to.

Mr. DRIGGS made an argument against the bill on the same general ground as stated by his colleague. He had a letter read from a Bath, Me., ship builder to Senator Chandler, against allowing a drawback on foreign material. The writer, A. D. Houghton, stated his objections: that it would be unjust to those who had invested their money in ships, as the reduction would lessen the value of their property just as much as the drawback would amount to; that there are more vessels now built and being built than are wanted, the cotton crop not being half what it was before the war. There were preparations made for building on the Kennebec River fifteen ships and barks averaging a thousand tons each, which would be built, duty or no duty, and a large number of vessels could be built this year in the State of Maine, quite large enough for the prospect ahead.

Mr. MYERS spoke in favor of all the sections of the bill, except that allowing a drawback on ship building materials.

Mr. LYNCH made an argument in support of the bill. In the course of his remarks he spoke of every article entering into ships being taxed.

Mr. ELDRIDGE asked if there was anything on a laboring man of the West, from the crown of his head to the sole of his foot that was not taxed for the benefit of manufactures.

Mr. LYNCH remarked the war, which had nearly annihilated American commerce, had protected and stimulated manufacturing and agricultural interests, and these interests were to-day in a more thriving condition than before the war; but the American built ship, which had to pay taxes on all its materials, was brought into direct competition with British ships, which pay no such taxes. There was therefore no analogy between the cases.

Mr. ELDRIDGE agreed with the gentleman from Maine that ship building should be free from taxation; but he protested against discrimination in favor of ships or against the laboring man.

Mr. LYNCH said he did not agree with the gentleman from Wisconsin. He (Mr. Lynch) was in favor of protecting American labor and industry. Subsequently Mr. Lynch stated that the letter from the Bath ship builder came, not from a ship builder, but a ship owner—a man who had a branch of his house in Liverpool, and was therefore interested in keeping up depression in American commerce.

Messrs. BROOKS, WASHBURNE, of Wisconsin, SPAULDING, and PIKE advocated the bill.

Mr. BROOMALL proposed to amend Mr. Morrill's amendment by adding a provision that the present tariff duties be increased five per cent.

Mr. ALLISON opposed and Messrs. PILE and BUTLER favored the bill.

Mr. ALLISON as a test of the House, moved to table the bill.

Mr. PIKE offered to amend the bill by striking copper out of the second setion.

Mr. ALLISON said he would still move to table the bill.

The question was taken and the bill was tabled—82 to 44.

On motion of Mr. FARNSWORTH, the Senate amendments to the bill to relieve certain citizens of North Carolina from political disabilities were non-concurred in and a Committee of Conference asked.

Mr. BINGHAM gave notice that he would to-morrow call up his motion to reconsider the vote on the twenty-per cent resolution.

Adjourned.

THE SAENGERFEST.

Gala Appearance of Chicago—Monster Concert—Torchlight Procession.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 17.—A large portion of the city presents a gala appearance to-day, in honor of the Saengerfest. A long the line of march down Clark street from Bridge to the Turner's Hall, there is not a house which does not bear some evidence of joy on the part of the inmates, that the Fest has at last arrived. Every window and every doorway is adorned with floral wreaths and bears inscriptions manifesting the enthusiasm. State and Wells streets, where the Germans most abound, South Side and Randolph, and Madison streets, and West Side, are brilliant with decorations.

Scarcely a goathaus or lager beer saloon but has its tribute to the singing brothers from abroad. Many of the shops and stores are trimmed with combined colors of the Fatherland and the United States. The stars and stripes are often seen alongside old German colors, gold red and black, and the new colors of the North German Confederation. Turner's Hall, Ulrick's Hall, Wabash Avenue rank, and other headquarters are decorated in the most handsome manner. Societies from abroad have been arriving since 5:30 this morning, and other large delegations from the east will arrive to-night and to-morrow. The delegates from the old country, who were expected at 8:30 this morning, will not arrive until to-morrow, on account of a long detention they experienced in Ohio in consequence of the destruction of a railroad bridge near Lima.

At eight o'clock this evening a grand procession was formed at Ulrich's Hall, and marched to Wabash avenue. The procession was half an hour passing a given point. It contained several bands and was profusely interspersed with flags, &c. The streets through which it passed were crowded with people. At the Rink the singers, were welcomed by Mayor Rice in a brief speech, after which the formal reception and concert took place. The chorus consisted of five hundred voices, composed of Chicago societies, with an orchestra of seventy pieces. After the concert a grand torchlight procession, with flags, transparencies, &c., formed on Wabash avenue and marched through the principal streets to headquarters. The evening closes with social gatherings at Turner's Hall, Dutches Haus, Ulrich's Hall, and other headquarters of local societies.

RICHMOND.

Trial, Conviction and Sentence of Whisky Inspectors and a Revenue Officer for Defrauding the Government—The Case of Judge Meredith, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, VA., June 17.—The trial of John H. Anderson, late Collector of the Fourth District, R. W. Elsow and A. J. Goulding, Whisky Inspectors, and J. H. Patterson, Assessor of Internal Revenue, for engaging in whisky frauds, has been concluded and the prisoners found guilty. Anderson was sentenced to the Penitentiary for two years, and pay a fine of ten thousand dollars. Patterson and Elsow were both sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary, and a fine of five thousand dollars, and Goulding one year's imprisonment and a fine of two thousand dollars. A motion was made for a new trial, but was overruled. The prisoners are to be sent to the Penitentiary.

The investigation against Judge Meredith for unlawfully admitting foreigners to citizenship, is finished, and the military commission will render a verdict in a few days.

Several deputations of Republicans have waited on Gen. Stoneman with the request that he order an immediate election in this State, without reference to a revision of the registration voters. Gen. Stoneman declines to take any action, saying that the matter was beyond his control and in the hands of Congress.

The Ejection of a Colored Woman from a Car—The Mayoralty Question—Interviews with the President—Three Per Cent. Certificates Chase and the Presidency—The Reward for Capture of Jeff. Davis—The Case of Surratt.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 17, 1868.

INVESTIGATION CLOSED.

The Senate Committee on the District of Columbia, who were instructed to inquire into the alleged forcible ejection of Mrs. Kate Brown, a colored woman in charge of the ladies' retiring room of the Senate, from a car of the Alexandria railroad, made a report to-day confirmatory of the statements before made; but that Mrs. Brown has instituted suit against the Company for damages, and that the policeman who ejected her from the car has since been dismissed from the service of the Company. They recommend that the resolution for the present remain on the table.

CAPTORS OF JEFF. DAVIS AND THEIR REWARD.

The bill reported from the House Committee on Claims to-day provides for the distribution of the one hundred thousand dollars reward among the captors of Jeff. Davis. The rewards to James H. Wilson, of Illinois, late Major General of Volunteers, Benjamin D. Pritchard, late Lieutenant Colonel of the Fourth Michigan Cavalry, and Joseph A. Youmans, late Captain in the First Ohio Cavalry, are three thousand dollars each. The balance is to be divided pro rata among the officers and men of of the Fourth Michigan Cavalry and a detachment the First Wisconsin Cavalry accompanying Captain Youmans, principally of Ohio, who were present on the morning of May 10th, 1865, proportionally to the monthly pay proper to which each was entitled.

WHITE HOUSE VISITORS.

A large number of visitors were in attendance at the Executive Mansion to-day, including many ladies and several individuals of prominence.

A Committee of citizens of Washington, including the Mayor ad interim and several members of the Conservative wing of the City Councils had interviews with the President in reference to the bill which passed Congress relating to muni ipal officers.

Generals Rosseau and Hancock, and Senators Henderson and Buckalew also had interviews with President Johnson.

THE MAYORALTY QUESTION.

The Supreme Court of the District of Columbia has declared Doyles J. Bowen de facto Mayor of Washington.

JUDGE CHASE AND THE PRESIDENCY.

At an interview with the President last evening Judge Chase expressed a willingness to accept the Democratic nomination on a platform embracing the living issues of the day.

RECONSTRUTION MEASURES.

Specials state that the Reconstruction Committee held two sessions to-day, the subjects under consideration being the division of Texas and the best means of securing the adoption of the Virginia Constitution.

THREE PER CENT. CERTIFICATES.

The Senate Finance Committee will probably soon report a bill authorizing the issue of twenty millions three per cent. certificates for the redemption of compound interest notes.

SUPREME COURT.

In the District Court to-day, Judge Fisher recognized S. J. Bowen as Mayor of Washington, and Col. Cooper as Corporation Attorney, in place of James H. Bradley, Jr.

SURRATT CASE.

It is understood the Grand Jury is examining witnesses with a view to bringing in a new indictment against Surratt, charging him only with conspiracy to take the life of President Lincoln.

FROM EUROPE.

Amnesty by the Pope—Abyssinia —Nova Scotia's Complaint in the English House of Commons —French Budget—War Plot in Germany—Admiral Farragut.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 17. — Dispatches from Rome dated the 15th, state the Pope intended to issue a general amnesty to political offenders on the anniversary of his ascension to the Holy See.

English journals publish a telegram from Zoula, Abyssinia, dated June 2d. The troops of the expedition, except a body of cavalry, have left Zoula to embark for Bombay. Gen Sir Robert Napier was to leave on the 12th.

In the House of Commons on Tuesday night an interesting debate took place on a petition of the people of Nova Scotia against the Canadian act. Mr. Bright moved that a commission be appointed to inquire into the cause of discontent in Nova Scotia in regard to the operation of the act of confederation. Mr. Bright supported his motion with a speech, in which he declared an investigation into this matter could not be otherwise than advantageous. If refused, the people of Nova Scotia would feel that they were victims of a policy with which they did not and could not sympathize. Such refusal would increase hostility to Canada and estrange them from England and give powerful stimulus to their sympathy with the United States. Justice to the people of Nova Scotia and generosity to the United States demanded this inquiry. The Ministry would be greatly to blame should any untoward event result from a refusal to grant this demand.

Mr. Wm. Baxter, member of Montrose, seconded the motion made by Mr. Bright.

Right Hon. C. D. Adderly, under Secretary of the Colonial Department, replied for the government. He acknowledged that discontent prevailed in the province of Nova Scotia. He took occasion to deny the correctness of a statement made by Mr. Bright, in a speech made on the 15th of May, to the effect that the passage of the Canadian Union act in Parliament was not final, but merely preliminary to the act of the Legislature of each of the provinces concerned. The appointment of this commission of inquiry would be a great evil, and be considered an insult by the Dominion of Canada. He informed the House that steps had been taken by the Government to allay the present feeling in the North American provinces. He said this feeling was not so bitter as represented, for the acts of the Canadian Parliament had since been approved by Nova Scotia, and whatever discontent still existed would probably disappear, as the people of that province had no reason to apprehend an increase of taxation or expenses.

After further discussion a division of the House took place on Mr. Bright's motion, which resulted, for the commission, 87; against, 183—majority against, 96.

Later in the evening the Irish Church appointment of the suspensionary bill was passed to a third reading.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, June 17.—In the South German Parliament to-day the entire budget was adopted.

A report is in circulation that certain important papers have been discovered in Silesia which reveal the existence of a plot to involve the lesser European powers with France in a war against Prussia.

King William has gone to visit Hanover for the first time since the late war with Austria.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 17.—In the Ministerial report on the budget, reference is made to the general arming represented to be going on in Europe. The report declares both the people and government of France desire peace, and there is now no evidence that the existing state of tranquility throughout Europe will be disturbed.

BELGIUM.

BRUSSELS, June 17.—Admiral Farragut has invited King Leopold to review the squadron under his command. The King has accepted the invitation, and the review will take place at an early day in the harbor of Ostend.

ANTWERP, June 16.—Petroleum dull at 47.

Accident on the New York Central R. R.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, N. Y., June 17.—The mail train on the N. Y. Central Railroad, due here at 2:30 this p. m., was thrown from the track about five miles this side of Schenectady, while running at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The Merchants Union and American Express cars and one baggage car were thrown over an embankment twenty feet high and badly broken. One passenger car was thrown off the track but did not go over the embankment. An express messenger named Carr was injured, but no passenger. The accident was caused by a spreading rail.

Confession of a Homicide.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PLYMOUTH, Mass., June 17.—There is good reason for stating that Deacon Andrews has confessed to his counsel that he killed Cornelius Holmes, claiming to have done soin self defence. The confession is in writing, and will be submitted to the Grand Jury with a view to justify an indictment for manslaughter.

U. S. Senator from Florida.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TALLAHASSE, June 17.—The Legislature to-day elected A. S. Welsh, United States Senator for the term expiring March, 1869. There was no election for the term of four years. The result is uncertain, though Osborn is ahead.

—Commissioner Rollins has a reply to Secretary McCulloch, which is scorching. He gives facts showing that some of the worst men in the country are assessors and collectors, especially in New York. The President is anxious to get Rollins out, and he has been told by Republicans that if he will send in an able and honest man he can be confirmed. But the Democrats insist that the man shall be a partisan Democrat who will help them in the Presidential campaign. The President has not yet considered the name of a pure man for the place.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

HE SLEEPS WHERE HE FELL.

He sleeps where he fell 'mid the battle's roar,
With his comrades true and brave;
And his noble form we shall see no more—
It rests in a hero's grave:
Where the rebel foe in his might came forth,
With all his power and pride;
And our gallant men from the rugged North
Like patriots fought and died.

He sleeps near the hill where bright flowers grow,
In the wildest woodland shade;
Where the valley-stream in the dell below,
With an echo fills the glade;
Where the boasting lines of the traitor South
Filed up o'er the grassy banks,
Till the bursting shells from our cannon's mouth
Flung death in their broken ranks.

He sleeps 'neath the sod where I prayerfully knelt,
While the enemy round me stood,
As I took from his corse his battle-belt
Still wet with his heart's warm blood;
And the Summer day closed its light on earth,
And my soul grew sad with pain,
As they bore me away with oaths and mirth,
O'er piles of the bleeding slain.

He sleeps where the blest of our glorious dead
Were left on the sacred land;
Where the daring deeds, ere his spirit fled,
He led with a bold command!
He sleeps—yes he sleeps, undisturbed by war,
Though tyrants tramp o'er his breast;
For, those who slumber in glory afar,
He takes as in mortal rest.

—The Viceroy of Egypt has chosen an English Captain to superintend the reconstruction of the Egyptian navy.

—There is but one Italian daily newspaper published in Rome, and that one is a miserable excuse for a journal.

—Genial John Brougham is jamming Wallack's Theatre in New York, with his own acting and plays as attractions.

—A Cincinnati paper nominated for Congress a man who has been dead for six months, "unbeknown" to the editor.

—71,000 pounds of butter were shipped from St. Albans, Tuesday last. The Fenians had nothing to do with this.

—The first edition of George Elliot's poem, the Spanish Gypsy, published by Tickmor & Fields, went off in three days.

—Yachting is a favorite amusement at Erie, and on Tuesday afternoon a yacht race took place for a handsome silver cup prize.

—John Bright is said to be immensely wealthy, his carpet manufactory and his mines in Wales are said to be very profitable.

—The height of hotel elegance has been reached by a host in New York who has the napkins of his guests perfumed for each meal.

—George Francis Train's latest evidence of cheek is a bitter wail over his own diffidence which prevents him from autobiographizing.

—It is said that in Hayti, in the imperial theatre, they play Othello, all of the characters being of negro blood, but the hero stains his face white.

—Bennett, who by the way can hardly be called an oracle, says that the July Convention at New York will decide the Presidential election.

—Knox, the New York hatter, wants the Loew bridge taken down, and he also wants $25,000 for damage done to his light and ventilation thereby,

—One man caught 344 trout with a hook and line last Friday week, in Sandisfield, New Hampshire, which we think must be a sort of a piscatorial paradise.

—Great preparations are going on at Princeton, so that President McCosh may look for a thrilling welcome to his new home when he arrives from the old country.

—A silk robe, once the property of the late lamented Marie Antoinette, and since then belonging to Mr. Williams, the supposed Dauphin, is now for sale in New York.

—The State Entomologist of Missouri says that the seventeen year locusts should be called thirteen year locusts, as the records show that they have appeared in 1816, 1829, 1842, 1855 and 1868.

—Albany has a veritable miser of the traditional variety. He is 86 years old, wears fearfully shabby clothes, never gives away a cent, and has more than a million and a half of money.

—The public squares of Philadelphia are still somewhat troubled with pendant worms and some entomological genius has found that is caterpillary attraction which causes them to descend to the ground.

—Reverdy Johnston, our new Minister to England, is seventy-two years old, and has been fifty years in public life. He has been twice in the United States Senate and was Attorney General under Gen. Taylor.

—The Cincinnati Commercial is such a fair paper that it is out in two articles, favoring Pendleton and Chase respectively, both in one issue, which leaves room for some one to say the issue lies between them.

—During the two months ending on the 11th inst., 81,781 immigrants arrived at Castle Garden. When we remember that large numbers have also arrived at Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and the Southern ports, the fignres become astounding.

—Longfellow does not intend to call upon Bulwer, who snubbed him the last time he was in England, then comparatively nnknown, and now, great as is the reputation of the novelist, we shonld prefer that of the simple well beloved poet professor.

—A Democratic paper says that "300 New York mothers have recently named their sons U. S. Grant in the doubtful hope of having a presidential namesake." No Democratic mothers have named their babes in any such hope, as the doubts are too great even for a mother's faith.

—Public Opinion has found somewhere the following original joke: "The earliest mention of a banking transaction—When Pharaoh received a check on the Bank of the Red Sea, which was crossed by Moses and Aaron. Was it a Pharoh Bank? If so, why should there be A-run upon it?"

—Bergh, the animal lover, protests against the muzzling of dogs. When Mr. Bergh descends to a thing of this sort, he presents an excellent example of bathos, for his love and protection of the helpless brutes have something of sublimity in them, but this latest protest is altogether ridiculous.

—Some of the youug lady pupils at a convent in Bordeaux, recently got hold of some of those naughty songs of the fascinatingly wicked Therese. The Mother Abbess dicovered and burned them, whereon the young ladies mutinied and very nearly succeeded in smothering a hostile nun between two mattrasses.

—Horatio Seymour has more sense than most Democrats; there is a tendency toward insanity in his family, and he feels that if he were made the Democratic candidate for President he should become insane, he therefore declines. Men of less sense, know that they have not sufficient brains to be addled, and so strive for the nomination.

—In bis Washington letter to the Philadelphia Press, Col. Forney makes this pointed remark: "Until Ulysses S, Grant took command of our armies, rebellion was confident of success. Until Ulysses S. Grant took command of the Republican party, the Democratic party was confident of success. And as he finished the first, so will he finish the second."

—It is proposed as a recognition of the services of Kit Carson to the country, to grant to his heirs the pension usually allowed to the widows and orphans of brigadier-generals in the army, to continue until his youngest child arrives at the age of twenty-one; and to permit each of his children to locate, free of expense, a homestead of 320 acres on the unoccupied land in New Mexico.

—The Crown Prince of Denmark is to marry the only child of the King of Sweden. The two kingdoms could with propriety be wedded at the same time. The King of Sweden is a magnificent looking man, tall and strong, with luxuriant hair and side whiskers, and very fond of his pipes, of which he has a fine collection. The King always smokes before getting up in the morning, and a rack with half a dozen indifferently colored meerschaums stands by his bed. The affability of this monarch and of his family has won the love of all the citizens of Stockholm, while their kindness towards foreigners is well known by many an American who has wandered into Scandinavia.

The Insane,

The Pennsylvania State Medical Society, recently in session at Harrisburg, appointed a committee to urge upon the Legislature the propriety of enacting a law which shall so determine the relations of the insane as to protect the medical profession in giving certificates of insanity, the insane from improper influences, and the community generally from injustice and oppression. The committee of the same Society, appointed at its session in 1867 to present a memorial to the Legislature for setting forth the necessity of a more extended provision for the care and treatment of the insane in this State, reported that the Legislature had passed a bill to establish an insane hospital for the counties on the northern and eastern frontier. Should the committee just appointed be as successful in their application for a carefully drawn law guarding the liberties of the citizen from the attacks of avaricious relatives, the opportunity of oppressing the defenceless under the cloak of humanity will no longer be afforded to crafty schemers.

A CONVENTION of Israelites is to meet in New York on June 21st, to confer upon the practicability of causing a general observance of their Sabbath. The Messenger says: "There exists no reason, of which we are aware, for Israelites to decline complying with the natural and biblical law. There can be no misconstruction of the direct scriptural command. We should be proud and grateful for the sight of synagogues crowded Friday evenings and Sabbath with earnest worshippers, who do not begrudge the hours spent in public service, and who propose spending the day as their forefathers did, in the home circle, enjoying the bliss and serenity of family reunions which, in times past, served so successfully to keep ever active and vigorous the beautiful Jewish life, the theme of poets, the grateful recollection of many a Hebrew, now a stranger to his people and his religion."

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET, Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is receding but very slowly, with scant three feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks. The weather was again oppressively hot yesterday, notwithstanding we had a very heavy shower of rain on Tuesday night.

The Ingomar arrived and departed for Wheeling, and the Glasgow cleared for Parkersburg in place of the Eagle. She went out drawing three feet, and, we presume, she would have to jump Glass House.

The J. N. McCullough, from Cincinnati, Grey Eagle, from Parkersburg, arrived. The McCullough would have been in early in the day, had she not have been detained by low water and fog. As we noticed yesterday, the Eagle retires for the present.

The Wauanita, which boat left here for St. Louis Tuesday evening, grounded on Glass House, and at last accounts, was still sticking there.

The Lorena, Capt. Sam. Shuman, is loading for St. Louis, and may possibly get off this afternoon or evening.

Passengers and shippers should bear in mind, that the J N McCullough, Capt. Geo. D Moore, leaves for Cincinnati to day on time, 12 o'clock. She is in all respects one of the best boats on this end of the Ohio River, and we have no doubt she will get more freight than she can take on the water.

The St. Charles left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Monday evening, and is due here to-night.

Andy Robinson, Jr., clerk of the St. Charles reports that parties who have been prospecting for silver near Ripley Landing, Jackson county, West Virgina, have struck a vein twenty-two inches thick, which yields ninety-five per cent. of pure silver. Great excitement prevails throughout that section of the country.

The managers of the Northern Line and Northwestern Union Packet Company held a meeting in Chicago on Wednesday, at which it was determined that the present rate for carrying freight on the Upper Mississippi was entirely too low, and an agreement was entered into by which the rates are to be raised to a living price, each party binding itself to abide by the rate established.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Monday, says: There were 17 arrivals during the past 48 hours, mostly with full cargoes, and 17 departures, including the Ruth and the towboat Shark and barges, with all the freight they wanted. Rates of freight and passage to St. Paul to way points were advanced this morning by the two rival lines. The boats leaving here for St. Paul have their entire ladies' cabins engaged considerably in advance. The Miner has arrived from Benton.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday, says: Owing to low water, freights have advanced to all points, the rate to New Orleans being 35 to 40c per 100 pounds. The Emma No. 3 reshipped her Pittsburgh freight on the Delaware. The latter departs for Pittsburgh this morning. The Mary Erwin has been chartered to take the place of the Ohio No. 3 in the Marietta trade during low water. The Westmoreland will depart for New Orleans to-day, and will be followed by the Swallow. Captain Thos. Poe, of the Amelia Poe, recently sunk in the Mississippi river, arrived here yesterday.

We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Tuesday: The Champion, sunk recently at Chenault's Reach, will be here in a day or two, having been raised. We heard yesterday that there would be trouble between the owners and some of the insurance companies that had risks on her, because of a statement to the effect that a "cub" was at the wheel when she struck, and no licensed pilot at hand to give directions. We have heretofore stated, on the authority of her clerk that a licensed pilot was at the wheel, and Capt. Gregg sitting on the roof in front of the texas. We think, therefore, that the story we heard yesterday must be untrue. However, it gives us an opportunity to warn masters of boats and licensed pilots against leaving the wheel entirely in charge of a steersman, even for a short time, as is frequently done.

We also take the following from the same paper: Captain Calhoun, we understand, has been offered command of a fine side-wheel packet, but declined, because of previous contract.

The rivalry between the magnificently built steamers carrying passengers between New York and Boston is unprecedented. These lines have hitherto worked side by side in unostentatious rivalry, having a uniform rate of fare of from four to five dollars, making the passage by water cost about as much as the trip inland by the way of Springfield. But at last they have become so numerous—there being now four separate lines of steamers and two land routes—that the competition has become very spirited, and within the last few weeks they have been running a race for public favor by the means of low fares, until now one can take his choice of the means by which he will go to New York or Boston for a dollar. The result of this has been, that multitudes of people are making the journey merely for the cheapness of it, and some of the steamers now carry from a thousand to twelve hundred passengers nightly. There are no sleeping accommodations for so many; application a week in advance is necessary to secure a state-room; and the late comers have to test the tenderness of a plank all night. The dining rooms of the boats are turned into restaurants on the European plan, and so made infinitely more profitable; and this in a measure compensates for the difference in fare.

IT APPEARS that in the Boston letter to Senator FESSENDEN, there is a clause which distinctly states that the signers do not wish to indorse the wisdom of his vote on impeachment, and while they disagree with him, they concede his right to vote as he pleases.

IT is reported that Mr. JOHNSON thinks his chances for the Democratic nomination improving. Nothing is more likely, and the GAZETTE proposes to educate its Democratic readers, as faithfully as possible in the brief space to intervene, up to a proper degree of enthusiasm for a nomination which is more likely than any other to be made.

A COMMISSION, consisting of Gov. GEARY, Dr. CURWEN, of Harrisburg, Dr. REED, of Pittsburgh and Dr. GREEN, of Easton, and charged with the duty of selecting a site for the new Northern Insane Hospital, are now on a tour of observation through that portion of the Commonwealth. They were at Williamsport yesterday, and will extend their visit to all prominent and desirable points.

THE periodical renewal of the effort to remove Mr. MCCULLOCH from the Treasury Department is again witnessed at Washington. No movement of this nature could possibly succeed until after the New York Convention is held, and whether then successful or not depends entirely upon circumstances. It is not impossible that those who now denounce him may become his cordial supporters.

THE intimation, by the Cincinnati Commercial, that Mr GROESBECK would not accept a Cabinet office from the President, is not entertained by the Gazette of the same city, which declares that Mr. GROESBECK will accept the Secretaryship of the Treasury, providing the President will give him power to reform the existing abuses, including the right to remove dishonest subordinates, and appoint respectable men.

THE Pittsburgh Post errs in its estimate of the motives which prompt our neighborly interest in its behalf. The financial success of any of our cotemporaries would elicit our congratulations, not our criticisms. We reserve the latter for journals which persist in their misrepresentation of facts. When the Post shall exhibit courage enough to admit of an editorial correction of an editorial misstatement in its columns, it will have a better title to our sympathy in its repudiated and melancholy estate.

GEN. LOGAN'S proposition to remove the National Capital westward has developed an unexpected degree of strength in its favor. Although the House would not suspend the rules, the other day, to receive it, it is predicted that, when brought up again, as an isolated question, it will receive a much larger vote. Not a few among prominent Eastern politicians and journalists regard the movement with evident favor, and there is a growing sentiment in all quarters that this removal of the seat of government is only a question of time.

IT is evident that Virginia and Texas cannot secure the Congressional acceptance of their new Constitutions, at the present session, even if the popular elections yet to be ordered should prove favorable to them. Mississippi, adopting her Constitution before the end of this month, is likely to make the eighth reconstructed and restored State. It is possible, therefore, that the two former States may not be admitted to a full participation in the proceedings of the National Democratic Convention. An effort to exclude them, on the ground that they can have no voice in the Electoral College, will undoubtedly be made by the friends of some candidate who does not expect their votes.

WERE offenders against the excise laws everywhere dealt with as vigorously and faithfully as were those whom Judge CHASE sentenced to heavy penalties at Richmond a day or two since, the whisky-ring would be effectually flattened out within sixty days. But, unfortunately, these convictions, with those of Callicott and Enrighte, at New York, last week, afford as yet the only evidence, after two years of trial, that these laws were framed to command obedience rather than to enrich a dishonest and profligate office-holding ring. Despairing of the justice which at last begins to find such a tardy vindication, Congress is driven to meet the evil by removing the temptation rather than by ensuring its punishment.

THE New York Advertiser (T. W.) would "not be at all surprised to see Mr. SEYMOUR the nominee of the 4th of July Convention. He is the ablest and most popular man of his party." Gen. MCCLELLAN is stated to have written a letter strongly recommending Gen. HANCOCK. Judge CHASE is making Southern capital by the prominence which he gives to the idea of an universal amnesty. And, at a social reunion in Richmond a few evenings since, Gov. WISE and other notable Virginians being present, he said to a gentleman: "Here are a number of the most prominent men in the State; men of intellect and character, yet not one of them can hold office in the State, while the class of persons who can, are, in many cases, utterly unfit for it." It is not difficult to perceive that a platform which, while recognizing the unalterable fact of colored suffrage, goes one decisive step farther, and restores to the brains and wealth of the South their forfeited political rights, will have more to recommend it than to condemn it among the intelligent men of that region. Universal amnesty will more than compensate them for universal suffrage, especially when coupled with a distinct assertion of the rights of each State to regulate its own franchise. The acutest Southern politicians, who are largely represented in the class now disfranchised, see this clearly and will exert an influence accordingly. The popular tide in that quarter, however, sets strongly in favor of Mr. JOHNSON, and is likely to cover all obstacles.

SYSTEMS OF POPULAR NOMINATIONS.

The Republicans of Juniata county voted, on Saturday last, for the first time, under the Crawford county system, for candidates to be voted for at the next election, and it is said that more votes were polled than the Republicans polled in 1867. This system, it is well known, provides for a direct popular vote, at the primary election, for the office-seeking candidates. Delegates and nominating Conventions are dispensed with, the votes being certified to and counted by the Executive Committee which declares the results. The Philadelphia system, adopted last week for the first time elects delegates, as according to the more general method, but chooses a distinct set, to meet in separate Convention, for each office, and all to sit the same day. This system is elaborately discussed, by the Bulletin of the 15th. Both the advantages and the disadvantages of this system were fully developed in the trial and the main result is regarded as entirely favorable to the new rules. Great benefit resulted from holding the election in day light, the immediate assemblage of the Conventions precluded any subsequent trades for the votes of delegates, and the division of the nominations, to be singly disposed of by separate Conventions, not only interposed a further obstacle in the way of any log-rolling arrangements, but confined the mischievous consequences of a want of harmony in any one of the Conventions, to its own body alone, leaving the party unanimous as to all the offices filled by the other meetings. For example, while the District Attorney Convention resulted in a split and a bolt, and two candidates placed in nomination, the remaining six-sevenths of the ticket unites the entire party cordially. The experiment also exhibits the defects of the new system. One of them is found in the inequality of representation, and this is susceptible of an obvious and easy correction. A greater precision is demanded in the regulations for registration, and larger facilities should be given for investigating and pronouncing upon cases of contested seats. The Bulletin remarks:

> If the main defect in the basis of representation can be remedied, the other defects will soon remedy themselves. The interest which the Union League and the Republican press generally have awakened among the people in the important duty of doing their own voting will not die out. The hasty and imperfect experiment of last week shows what can be done in conducting our municipal affairs on a truly Republican principle, and another year will perfect what has been so admirably begun.

Before dismissing this topic, we may state that the prizes offered by the Union League, of Philadelphia, for the four best essays on "the legal organization of the people to select candidates for office," have recently been awarded, the fourth prize being given to Hon. RUSSELL ERRETT, of this city. The successful essays have not yet been made public.

THE RE-COPPERED DEMOCRACY.

Taking a strictly partizan view of the matter, we should be quite content to chronicle the success of the Copperhead movement to withhold the Democratic party from the advanced positions which its wiser and more practical leaders approve. A liberalized, practical Democracy, which accepts the situation and conforms its tactics to a position which it recognizes as unalterable, which takes things as they are and proposes to make the best of them, which is not blind to the greatest truth of the day, viz. that the results of the rebellion have destroyed, root and branch, the old Aristocracy of the Constitution, establishing the paramount, undisputed supremacy of the Democratic principle which it has successfully antagonized for eighty years—a Democracy which should receive the Constitutional Amendments as the new and superior dispensation of its reformed and re-invigorated faith—this is the sort of Democracy which might give us some trouble, at least a sharp fight, this year. As partizans, therefore, we can afford to be thankful that the Copperhead element is likely to regain the control of that party, forcing it back into the old ruts, for another hopeless contest against the enlightened opinion of the age.

But, nevertheless, this view does not afford us any real pleasure. We would much prefer to see the Democratic party yielding a wise and patriotic acquiescence in the logic of events, and aiming at a noble rivalry with Republicanism, for the championship of Popular Progress and of Human Rights. It is sincerely to be regretted that the few clearer-sighted men who stand upon the higher plane of a wiser and purer Democracy, should have been forced to yield to the storm of indignant invective with which the masses of the party, hounded on by the fourth-rate journals which have unfortunately so much influence in moulding Democratic opinion, have recently assailed and overwhelmed them. While this presages another easy and inevitable victory for the great party of the Union, Liberty, Law and Right, it leaves us to regret that a numerous minority of the American people should continue so insensible to the teachings of experience, to the dictates of an enlightened patriotism, and to the lessons of a purer Christianity.

THE annexed Washington dispatch of Monday evening yields a clear insight into the workings of Democratic sentiment in the South and at Washington. The prominence given to Mr. JOHNSON'S name, and the division of Southern sentiment touching Mr. CHASE, are equally noticeable. The dispatch says:

General James B. Steedman, the Chairman of the Louisiana delegation to the New York Convention, is here and publicly states that they support President Johnson on the first ballot as their candidate for the Presidential nomination. In this they expect to be sustained by the votes of all the Southern delegations. Other parties state the northern Democrats will be astonished at the strength of Mr. Johnson in the Convention, and add that if the name of Chief Justice Chase is put in formal nomination a well-known Democratic leader will protest in a speech which will at least have the merit of having been carefully prepared. This speech will embrace an assertion that if Mr. Chase or any other man is nominated, who has nor in the past been thoroughly identified with the Democratic party, the voters will be absolved from their allegiance to the acts of the Convention, and will accordingly be privileged to bolt the ticket. Many Southern Democrats now here will sustain this speech, while others say that they will accept Mr. Chase or any one else who will give a pledge to relieve them from their present political embarrassments.

DEMOCRATIC JOURNALS, which exhibited for a while marked leanings toward the liberal platform upon which Judge Chase is assumed to stand, have been so promptly and bitterally denounced by the extremists of the party, that they evince a general disposition to withdraw once more to the old and narrow ground upon which the party has won so many glorious defeats. The moral cowardice of the journals which are thus bullied into an abandonment of the advanced position, elicits the following commentary from the New York Tribune:

You have tried to act for once like men of sense; but the Rebel Copperhead element of your party is too strong and too bitter. So you crawl back into your old shell—renew the clamor for a "White Man's Government," and prepare to get another whaling as you courted and secured it in 1864. You have made your bed, gentlemen! just as you did by your Chicago Platform of four years ago. We shall meet you at Philippi; and, after you shall have been thoroughly thrashed, you will own that you courted and deserved it!

WE find in the Pittsburgh Post an article reprinted from the New York Sunday News, entitled, "A Word of Warning to Members of the Convention." As the Post omits a very important part of the article as it originally appeared in the News, we venture to supply the objectionable paragraph as follows:

The delegates to the Democratic Convention of July must come here prepared to combat an amount of political corruption in their own ranks which has never been exceeded in the blackest period of the dominant party. The infamous New York ring work under the secret countersign of "rule or ruin;" and it will require all the virtue and all the patriotism which the Democratic party ever brought out in its palmiest days to prevent a political fraud from being concocted and fostered upon the Democratic votes for their suffrages. We warn the Western delegates that they must come here with the spirit of Spartans, and to yield to nothing that their best and honest convictions tell them is not the free, untrammelled, unpurchased expression of the Convention.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

The liquor and tobacco tax bill will be reported next week and disposed of promptly.

It is believed that Congress can adjourn by the middle of next month.

Governor Wells, of Virginia, was before the Committee yesterday urging the necessity of enacting a law which will bring his State into the Union at once, It is feared that no relief can be accorded to the Old Dominion.

Reverdy Johnson has gone to Annapolis on professional business. He will return on Saturday.

It is thought that the Surratt trial will be postponed on Monday, and that the prisoner will be released on bail.

Gen. Buchanan will convene the Legislature of Louisiana as soon as the State is admitted, so as to have the constitutional amendments ratified.

Mr. Logan's resolution for the appointment of a Commission to look up a site for the Capital in the Mississippi Valley, will not be carried at this session, although it will receive a heavy vote.

Mr. Romero, the Mexican Minister, is here.

The President will nominate Percy Fuller, of Kansas, to succeed Mr. Rollins, it is said.

The Managers' report will not be ready for some days.

Congress will make no more appropriations for this city.

—Additional Mexican news says that Generals Negrete, Riva and other rebels were arranging for a war against the government. Negrete, with 1,400 rebels, had gone to Quertaro, being enthusiastically received en route. Four thousand rebels were concentrating at Jalappa. Riva had routed the regular troops in the State of Querrato, under Sierreno. Many arrests had been made the past month in the City of Mexico.

—The defalcation in the Hide and Leather National Bank of Boston is ascertained to be $575,000. The surplus of the Bank is $350,000. The directors think that a portion of this loss will be made up from premiums on Government securities owned by the Bank and the assets of the defaulters, so that the capital stock will be but slightly impaired.

—A dispatch from Ogdensburg, N. Y., says: The reports from here and other towns on the frontier of the State, about the storage of Fenian arms and the gathering of Fenian warriors in those neighborhoods, are pure fabrications. They are ascertained to be so by officers of the Government who were sent there to investigate them.

—The Maine State Fenian Convention met at Portland on Tuesday. Twenty five circles were represented. Gen. O'Neill delivered an address, explanatory of the war movement of which he is the recognized leader. Men and money were pledged by the delegates present, and several officers, graduates of West Point, offered their services.

—The National Board of Underwriters, in Convention at Baltimore, have agreed to raise a fund of one hundred thousand dollars to ferret out, convict and punish incendiaries. The proposed reduction of tariffs for fire and marine insurance will be considered to-day, and probably acted upon favorably.

—The Senate will probably add twenty millions to the bank note circulation, and the House will reject it. A decided majority of the House is in favor of curtailing the bank circulation rather than increasing it, and issuing more government notes, if there is to be an increase of any sort of currency.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The New City Hall.

When completed, the new City Hall will more than favorably compare with any similar building in the country. Neither pains nor expense will be spared to render it a pride to the city, and at the same time admirably adapted for the purpose to which it will be devoted. It will stand on the corner of Virgin alley and Smithfield street, the site of the old American Foundry.

It will have a front of one hundred and twenty feet on Smithfield street, and be one hundred and ten feet deep from the front to the extreme rear; the body of the building will he one hundred and twenty feet long by one hundred feet deep, set back eight feet from Smithfield street, having a central projection of forty feet wide on the line of the street, forming a base to a tower forty feet square, to be carried up in the front of the building.

The body of the building will have three full stories and an attic, the tower going two stories higher.

The first floor will be raised four feet above the sidewalk of the street, the second floor twenty-five feet, the third floor fifty feet, and the attic floor (at the main cornice) will be raised seventy feet above the ground. The attic will have a French or Mansard roof, at fifteen feet above the main cornice, and will be finished with an ornamental cornice and cresting of iron work.

The tower, or the central projection of the front, will be carried up forty-eight feet high above the main cornice, and these, covered with a dome in the "Louvre" style, on which will be placed an open octogan belfry of fifteen feet diameter, terminating in an ogee dome and vane, making the whole structure one hundred and seventy-five feet high above the sidewalk.

The front of the building and the upper part of the tower will be of stone, the side and rear walls of brick, finished with dressings of stone around all openings, the dome and belfry will be constructed of iron, and the dome covered with copper.

The style of the architecture will be that known as "Renaissance," similar to that of the City Hall of Boston, being a combination of ornamental pilasters and cornices to each story, and moulded dressings to all openings.

The belfry is intended to receive the fire-alarm bell, and the upper stories of the tower and the dome are intended for the use of the Fire Department and alarm telegraph.

At the top of the tower, and in the base of the dome, will be dial faces of eight feet diameter, one on each of the four sides of the square, which can be seen from all parts of the city and Allegheny.

The main entrance to the building will be through an arcade on the first floor, of three openings six feet wide each; the arcade forming a porch fifteen feet deep by thirty-four feet wide; from this arcade the building will be entered by a main doorway eight feet wide, leading through a vestibule twelve by sixteen feet, into a central rectangle thirty-six feet square. This rectangle will be run up to the roof, having balconies six feet wide carried around at each floor, from which doors will communicate with all the rooms and will be surmounted at the roof with a raised skylight that will be so arranged as to form a ventilator for the whole building. In the rear of the rectangle will be placed the stairway, twenty feet wide by twenty-nine feet dep, extending to the rear wall of the building, having large windows in each story. The stairs will be built of stone and consist of a central flight eight feet wide and two side flights five feet each.

The first floor will have the Mayor's offices, placed on the right side of the entrance, with a side door entering from the arcade, and will consist of a court room thirty-six by thirty-seven feet, a clerk's room of nineteen feet square, chief of police's private room ten by sixteen feet, and a private room for the Mayor fourteen by eighteen feet. In the rear of the Mayor's offices, and entering from the central rectangle, will be a public office eighteen by thirty-six feet, and a private room fourteen by eighteen feet for the Surveyor and Engineer, who will have private rooms for draughtsmen placed on the third floor.

On the left side of the first floor will be placed the City Treasurer and Controller each with a public room 36 by 37 feet, private rooms 8 by 19 feet, and vaults 7 by 15 feet; the public rooms having side entrances from the front arcade and the central rectangle.

On the second floor will be placed the Council Chambers, in the front of the building; that of the Common Council will be 36 feet wide by 56 feet long, and that of the Select Council 36 by 38 feet, having a connecting room between them of 35 feet square, for a general Committee room, all being 24 feet high, and the Committee room being in the middle of the front, with windows opening on a balcony over the main entrance, which is intended to be used as a public reception parlor.

In the rear of the Select Council Chamber will be a room nineteen feet by thirty-seven feet for a Library and Museum of Pittsburgh art productions. The balance of the second floor will be arranged for offices for the City Solicitor, Assessor of Water Rents, and Committee Rooms.

The third and attic floors will be arranged for the accommodation of the Street Commissioners, Wharf Master, Board of Health, and Fire Department.

Each floor will have rooms seven feet by twenty-six feet on each side of the stairway, in the rear, to be fitted up with water closets and lavatories.

The basement story will be 12 feet in heighth, and will be arranged for a general heating apparatus, and the Police Quarters and Lockup.

All floors will be constructed with iron beams and brick arching, to make them fire proof.

The building being intended to accommodate and consolidate the offices of the City government, forming a Municipal Hall, the proper arrangement for that purpose does not admit of forming a large auditorium for great gatherings of the people.

Bill Ignored.

In the case of the Commonwealth against John Madera and wife, charged with larceny on oath of Frank McElroy, the Grand Jury ignored the bill. It was charged by the prosecutor that the defendants induced him into a house on Third street, when drunk, and took $600 from him. The money alleged to have been stolen was in two bills, one a $500 and the other a $100 greenback. A few days after the information was made the prosecutor was taken to Mercy Hospital, in consequence of excessive drinking, and was accompanied by a friend named Barnette, who in assisting him to take off his boots, found the five hundred dollar bill in one of them. Barnette testified to this fact before the jury and the bill was ignored.

In his first information McElroy included Jacob R. Gorman, a young man who was in the house at the time the money was alleged to have been taken, but was subsequently released, and on information made by him a process was issued for McElroy for malicious prosecution and false imprisonment.

There is a mystery connected with the case which is not yet explained, and that is, the whereabouts of the one hundred dollar bill. It was alleged by McElroy and admitted by Gorman that the former gave the latter the one hundred dollar bill to get changed, and Gorman states that he got the change and returned it to McElroy, and that he left the party and went down stairs, and a few moments later he saw Madera coming down with a roll of money in his hand, since when the $100 have not been heard off. "Experience is a dear school," and McElroy will perhaps pront by that for which he has paid the sum of $100, and hereafter keep sober or leave his money at home when he gets on a drunk. At least he should do so.

Grand Temple of Honor and Temperance—Twenty-Third Annual Session—Large Attendance—State Fully Represented.

The Grand Temple of Honor and Temperance for Pennsylvania, composed of past officers from each Lodge in the State, commenced its twenty-third annual session last Tuesday morning, in Templars' Hall, Fourth street, James McCandless, of this city, presiding. Every county in the State is fully represented by delegates numbering in all one hundred and nine, sixty of whom are from Philadelphia.

The object of the session is the election of officers for the ensuing year and the transaction of other important business connected with the interests of the order. Thus far the proceedings have been marked by the utmost harmony, and it is considered by delegates one of the most pleasant sessions ever held. As it is held with doors closed, we cannot give a full report of the business transacted, but have been furnished with the following list of officers elected for the ensuing year:

Grand Worthy Templar—George Cable, Philadelphia.

G. W. Vice Templar—Norville Holmes, Allegheny.

Grand Recorder—O. I. Search, Philadelphia.

G. W. Chaplain—A. H. Sembower, Pottsville.

G. W. Treasurer—S. P. Smith, Philadelphia.

G. W. Instructor—J. S. Morrison, Philadelphia.

G. W. Usurer—S. Jones, Johnstown.

G. W. Guard—T. J. Scott, Philadelphia.

During the past year the order has increased in number 1,400 throughout the State, and $16,500 was secured to carry on the work. Fourteen new Temples of Honor and the same number of Social Temples have been instituted. Extensive preparations have been made to ensure a vigorous and successful carrying forward of the work during the coming year, and they anticipate one of renewed prosperity and usefulness.

Last night the delegates partook of a sumptuous banquet in Templars' Hall, prepared under the supervision of the several lodges in this vicinity, who have entertained the visitors during the session in a princely style, sparing no pains to make their visit one of pleasure as well as business. The session will probably close to-day, with the installation of the officers elect at ten o'clock A. M., having accomplished all that was expected from it.

Lucky Escape.

Yesterday morning, Mr. William Keyser, merchant on Smithfield street, hired a pair of horses and barouche, of Mr. McClay's livery stable, Smithfield street, to take his family to a picnic, and, in addition to his wife and children, one three years and the other one year old, took his brother Job Keyser; and C. S. Ammon, with him. They started out Second street, and proceeded as far as the copper works, when they met the tran on the Connellsville Railroad, at which the horses took fright and ran over the bank. Mr. Keyser was driving, and observing that the barouche was about to turn over had the presence of mind to turn the horses with their heads down the hill, which is almost perpendicular for a distance of twenty-five feet, and a fence at the bottom. The horses brought up against the fence with the barouche on top of them, considerably damaged, and strange as it may appear, the entire party escaped uninjured, except Mr. Ammon whose arm was severely sprained. Livery men should be extremely careful in hiring horses, and should keep none but what they know to be perfectly safe and reliable, as the law holds them responsible for all damage the patrons sustain in consequence of wild and vicious horses.

An Unhappy Bridegroom.

The truth of the old proverb, "The course of true love never runs smooth," had a pretty good exemplification yesterday morning, in the case of a young gentleman, living not a thousand miles away from Scott street, in the Sixth ward. It seems that he had been paying his addresses to one of the fair sex of that portion of the city for some time past, and had succeeded so far as to require the services of a clergyman on Tuesday evening last, by whom the twain were made one. The sister of the happy bride hearing of this denouement next morning, and meeting the gentleman, who it appears never found favor in her eyes, welcomed him into the family in a manner more emphatic than cordial, in which a prominent part was taken by a strong stick wielded vigorously, a tongue going fast and furious, and a series of claws which quickly relieved h of all superfluous hair. The interview, which lasted about fifteen minutes, was finally terminated by the lady gracefully retiring, leaving her new brother-in-law a sadder and a considerably sorer if not a wiser man.

Skipped.

Thomas Woodsill made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging John Lemmon with assault and battery, alleging that the accused knocked him down. It appears that Lemmon also threatened to shoot him, for which information was made against him for surety of the peace. A warrant was issued for his arrest and placed in the hands of one of the Mayor's most efficient officers, who started in pursuit of the vicious Lemmon, who it appears resided at East Liberty. The officer proceeded there, notwithstanding the thermometer was a few degrees above ninety, in the shade, and was standing on the platform on the lookout for his game, when a train bound east came by, and Lemmon, who was standing on the platform of one of the cars, waived his hat to him and bid him "good-bye." The officer seeing there was no chance to "squeeze that Lemmon," returned, and reported progress.

Tartarish.

Mrs. Fred. Bowman, residing in that section of our city familiarly known as "Limerick," was quietly sewing at the front door of her domicil yesterday, when the wife of Wm. Breasher, living across the street, volunteered a few remarks which somewhat offended her dignity, whereupon she crossed over and proceeded to resent the insult in a very Amazonian style, tearing her victim's clothing to ribbons, pulling her hair, and otherwise considerably using her up. Mr. Breasher not relishing such treatment for his wife, promptly made information before Alderman McMasters, against the irate lady for assault and battery, and a warrant was issued.

Committed.

Thomas Campbell, charged on oath of his wife with assault and battery, before the Mayor yesterday, was arrested and after a hearing committed to jail in default of bail. A commitment was also lodged against him for surety of the peace.

Joseph Staves, charged on oath of Malinda Lucas, before the Mayor, yesterday, with assault and battery, was arrested and, after a hearing, committed to jail for trial. A commitment was also lodged against him for larceny, Gust Graftner being the prosecutor.

The Festival now being held on Sixth street by the ladies of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church is succeeding very handsomely. The attendance last evening was large and all seemed happy and well pleased with the entertainment. Music, Promenading, Ice Cream, Strawberries, Flowers and Sociality were the order of the evening. An excellent dinner was very much enjoyed by a number of visitors yesterday. The festival will be continued during to-day and this evening. Dinner from 12 to 3 o'clock. Supper in the evening.

The Mammoth Concert To-Night.

The greatest combination of harmonious human voices ever heard in this city will greet those who attend the grand concert at the Rink in Allegheny, under the auspices of Prof. W. H. Slack. Just think of one thousand voices in a powerful chorus, aided by the Great Western Brass Band and a number of pianos and parlor organs! Such a flow of melody so grand in effect will be a treat seldom offered in a life-time, and those who would partake of it should be in attendance. To-morrow afternoon the entertainment will be repeated, and on Saturday afternoon a matinee will be held. The Allegheny Quartette will be in attendance, and will render some of their choicest gems of song each evening. The doors will be open at half past seven o'clock, and at eight o'clock precisely the singers will take their position. Let none fail to be present, as this will be the greatest and grandest musical feast ever offered our people.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following deeds were filed of record before H. Snively, Esq., Recorder, June 17th, 1868:

James Black to Albert C. Patterson, June 2, 1868; lot on Union avenue, in the reserve tract opposite Pittsburgh, 24 by 100 feet.....$630

John M. Morgan to Alex. McConnel, April 2, 1868; lot in the village of Clinton, containing 48¾ perches.....$650

Levi Yakle to Henry Weimar, March 16, 1861; lot on Manhattan street, Sixth ward, Allegheny, 22 by 74 feet.....$700

Hugh Forrester to John Nelson, December 31, 1868; lot on Leacock street, Fourth ward, Allegheny, 17 by 66 feet, with buildings.....$3,000

Charles McKnight to D. P. Chapman, April 13, 1868; lot on Beaver street, in the Borough of Sewickley, containing 1 acre, 15 perches, with build'gs..$4,550

Hiers of Joseph Allen to Fred. Spreen, April 31, 1867; two lots, Nos. 66 and 67, in the plan of Allentown, in Lower St. Clair township, 85½ by 129 feet.....$800

Samuel Weeks to Josaphine Moore, April 9, 1868; a part of lot No. 12 in Leckey's plan, Woods' Run, 30 by 110 feet.....$575

Crossings.

Street Commissioner Hunter has made great improvement in the street crossings during the past few months, for which the public are duly thankful. In addition to the Smithfield street crossings at Fifth street, a fine eleven foot crossing has been placed on the alley next to the Post building, and a crossing four feet two inches across Fifth street at Market was yesterday completed. Four feet crossings will be laid on either side of Fifth street across Market in a few days. The stones are already on the ground and being prepared. We hope the good work will be continued.

Festival.

The festival for the benefit of the Board of Home Missions of the Methodist Church, which opens to-night in Excelsior Hall, Allegheny, will be an exceedingly pleasant affair. There is a great abundance of refreshments, and this, added to the excellent arrangements which have been made for the comfort and enjoyment of visitors, will no doubt attract a large attendance during its continuance. It will be open until Friday night, and we would advise our Allegheny friends to drop in.

Slight Accident.—A slight accident occurred at the rooms of English & Co's buildings, on Fourth street, the walls of which are being torn down preparatory to rebuilding, which was the result of carelessness and might have resulted seriously. Several Hibernians were engaged taking down the walls and had piled a large quantity of brick on the second floor, when the joist gave way and let the brick down, a portion of them falling on a man who was engaged at work on the first floor. Such carelessness is unpardonable and should be avoided.

Grand Concert.—Readers will bear in mind that a grand vocal concert will be given for the benefit of the Eighth Ward Mission Sabbath School, under the auspices of Prof. Edwin P. Sherratt, in the Second Union Presbyterian Church, Sixth street. A rare entertainment is offered all who attend.

CONVALESCENCE.

After a disease has been conquered, there is still the weakness that it leaves behind it to be removed. Convalescence is a tedious affair. If the enfeebled and flaccid muscles, the shattered nerves, the thin and watery blood could speak, they would cry for help. In too many cases such help as is given them is not of the right kind. The fiery stimulants of commerce do harm. They kindle a temporary flame, which is a mockery. Their effect passes, and the last state of him who uses them is worse than the first. Not such is the effect of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. There is no drawback to its toning properties. It has been found THE GREAT MEDICINE OF THE AGE for sustaining and bracing up the enfeebled constitution no matter how much debilitated—as it not only bestows strength, but soothes the nervous system and allays all excitement of the brain. While this excellent preparation possesses such effective properties, it is perfectly safe and is agreeable to the taste. Attempts have been made to rival it. They have failed. Can it be necessary to say why they have failed? Ask the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague and nervous subjects who have experienced its effects what they think of it. Ask them, and be guided by what they say. As a household medicine it is available at all times in cases of indigestion; bilious and other fevers, and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the stomach or liver.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculair mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

HOBOKEN,

IMPORTANT AUCTION SALE OF

BUILDING LOTS,

And Sites for Suburban Residences.

HOMES FOR ALL.

Hoboken is situated on the north side of the Allegheny river, seven miles above the city, and on the line of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad. This property is unsurpassed for advantages of location, beautiful romantic scenery, air and water. It undoubtedly possesses rare attractions for those whose cultivated tastes and better judgment lead them away to seek for homes free from the dust, smoke and noise of the city. It is laid out in lots to suit all purchasers. That portion between the railroad and river is laid out in lots of 25 by 120 feet. Above the railroad, up to Ninth street, are four ranges of lots, 40 by 160 feet. Above Ninth street one range of half acre lots. Above this are several ranges of acre lots. The balance will be sold in quantities to suit purchasers, for suburban residences. This is indeed the most attractive sale of real estate that was ever offered at public auction. The lots will be sold without reserve—a chance to purchase a home at your price. Attend the sale,

On Saturday, June 20th, 1868,

AT 2½ O'CLOCK P. M.,

On the premises. Free excursion. Trains leave Depot at 11:20 and 1:50.

FOR SALE.

A RIVER BOTTOM FARM OF 76 ACRES, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 120 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagon-shed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of FINANCE AND TRADE.

The apparent rising tendency of gold, engineered by a powerful clique of brokers in Wall street, has brought out a number of importers as buyers for to-day's steamer, and the price jumped late last evening from 140½ to 140⅞, and this morning the market opened at 141⅛, followed by an immediate decline to 140¼. The decline was caused partly by the export that the Government would anticipate the coupons due July next, which, however, was not confirmed, and the consequent withdrawal of orders to purchase for a rise. When the tables showing the daily excessive imports of merchandise and the small shipments of produce abroad are closely examined there, it seems would be sufficient reason for a further advance in gold, but since these goods are not purchased abroad, but merely consigned for sale, it does not follow, that immediate payment is to be made. Nor is it known what amount of securities are actually held abroad; it is just as doubtful whether remittances have to be made to Europe in specie for the interest and dividends becoming due on July next, or whether these sums will not be used in Government, Union or Central Pacific Railroad bonds, or Railroad and Mining property, of which large tracts change hands now. Not unless these datas can be more definitely ascertained, no correct estimate can be made what amount of paper currency would be equal to a gold dollar. It should be remembered that the two contending elements for a rise and fall of gold at New York are the importers and the brokers and speculators. It seems as if the brokers on an easy money market would have the advantage over the importers who have goods that can not be pledged for money so readily as bonds or stock.

Government securities were a fraction off to-day, after the decline in gold. The London quotations are off from the highest point, and the investment demand is rather slack; it is merely the speculators, who calculate on an easy money market after July next that are buying at present in order to force investors then to pay their own prices.

Stocks are steady, and some of the railroad shares are higher. North Western declared a dividend on the common and preferred stock of 6 per cent. Express shares are dull and lower, and border State bonds are higher.

Mining shares active and higher, and money less in demand.

Business dull and active.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 140¾; 1881 bonds, 117⅛; 1862 5-20s, 113; 1864 do, 110⅞; 1865 do, 111; Consols, 113¾; 10-40s, 106⅝; 7-30s, 109⅞.

Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88½; Fort Wayne, 111½; North Western, common 65¼; North Western—preferred, 77; New York Central, 134⅝; Erie, 69⅜; Old Southern, 90¾; Ohio & Mississippi, 29; Merchants Union Express, 28; Western Union Telegraph, 37⅛. Mining Shares—Corydon, 35; Quartz Hill, 125.

—The Philadelphia Press says: The question of the future course of the Government stock market is one of the deepest interest to everybody at the present time, and is the subject of the most animated discussions. The opinion most commonly entertained is that United States stocks are likely to go higher. The supply, which many have for a long time been prone to consider as well nigh inexhaustible, shows signs of giving out, and the old stock seems to be rapidly going out of the street and into the hands of the large host of regular holders. Confidence in the stability of our institutions is upon the increase both at home and abroad, and the belief in the future well-nigh unbounded, as the wealth and prosperity of this great country is becoming the creed of even the most confirmed croakers.

—The Philadelphia Ledger, of Tuesday says: The supply of money, as compared with the demand for it for business uses, continues very large. The rates rule as low as 3 to 4 per cent. on call on Government collateral, and at 4 to 5 per cent. on miscellaneous collateral. Prime paper is in demand at 5 to 6 per cent., and fair outside paper can be placed at 6 to 7 per cent. We have rarely known a time when there was so little demand for money, or when, with approved security, it could be had at lower rates. This in the nature of things, cannot last.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 140¾; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 117¼; 5-20's, 1862, 113¾; 5-20's, 1864, 110⅞; 5-20's, 1865, 110⅞; 10-40's, 106¾; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 113⅝; 5-20's, January and July, '67 114; June 7-30's, 109¼; July 7-30's, 109¾; May Comp., 1865, 119¾.

New York Dry Goods Market.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, June 17.—There is but little inquiry for any class of goods and prices are generally depressed, although not quotably lower.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 17, 1868.

The general markets continue dull, and the volume of business in the aggregate is light. Flour is reported a shade firmer in consequence of a slight advance in Wheat at Chicago, but here, as yet, there is no change, excepting that there is a firmer feeling. In other articles there are no new features worthy of notice.

BUTTER—Prime to choice fresh packed Butter is quoted at 24 to 26, with a very fair demand.

CHEESE—Sales of Western Reseve, reported at 14c; Hamburg at 15c and Factory at 16.

GROCERIES—The grocery market has been rather quiet during the past week, notwithstanding there has been a fair volume of business in the aggregate. In regard to values there has been no important changes, one way or the other, as will be seen by the following quotations:

SUGARS—Cuba, 12½c for good grocery 12¾ to 13c for prime; and 14c for choice; Porto Rico—good, 13c; prime, 13½; choice, 14½ to 15c; Clarified Cuba, 14 to 14¼c. Refined—Standard Hard, 17¾c; A, 16¾c; B, 16½c; Extra C, 16¼c; Sugar House, 11¼c.

COFFEE—Rio ranges all the way from 26½ to 27c for common to strictly prime. Java 37 to 38c.

SYRUPS—Lovering's $1; Silver Drips, $1; White Drips, $1,10; medium brands, 70 to 80c; common, 50 to 60c; Booth & Edgar Syrup, 90c.

RICE—Rangoon, good, 10c; prime to choice, 11 to 11¼c; Carolina, 12 to 12¾c.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, 90 to $1; Cuba, 65 to 70c; Porto Rico, 70 to 85c.

SPICES—Cassia, 80 to 85c; Cloves, 50c; Pepper, 38c; Allspice, 35c; Nutmegs, $1,50.

STARCH—Madison, 8c; Silver Gloss, 12¼c, and Corn Starch, 13½c.

FRUITS—Layer Rasins, $4,75 per box; Valentia, 20c per lb; Prunes, 17c; Currants, 14c for new.

BAR LEAD—12c; Shot, $3,50 per bag.

SOAPS—"Babbitt's," 12c; "Oakley's," 11¼c; Rosin, 5 to 7c; "Dobbin's," 15c.

CANDLES—Mould, 16c; Star, 23c.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$7,50 per case.

BI CARB SODA—$8,50 per 100.

FISH—White Fish, $9,00; Lake Herring, $5,00; Mackerel No. 1, $22; No. 2, $18,00; No. 3, $13,50; in half barrels, 50c more.

TOBACCO—Black 5s, 10s, ⅛s and Louisville Navy, 72 to 75c; Wm. H. Grant's 10s and Navy, 80c; C. & D. Tobacco, 22c to 25c for best.

TEA—The market is firm and prices are higher for new crop. Choice Young Hyson, $1,75; fair, $1,50; common to good, $1 to $1,35; Oolong, 75c, 85c, 90c, $1, $1,25 and $1,35; good Porto Rico, $1 to $1,85, as to quality. Imperial, $1 to $1,85. Japan—Choice, $1,30; fair $1.

FLOUR—As above noted, is a shade firmer, under the influence of an advance of 5c per bushel for Wheat in Chicago. As yet, however, there is no advance, and we continue to quote at $10,00 to $10,50 for Spring Wheat; $11,00 to $11,50 for Winter Wheat, and $14 to $15 for fancy brands. Winter Wheat, extra, $9,00. Rye Flour, $9,50 to $9,75.

MILL FEED—Is dull and drooping; sale of 274 sacks Bran at $1,20 to $1,25, and 1 car No. 2 Middlings at $1,60.

POTATOES—Continue very dull, and we continue to quote at $1,25 for small lots of Peach Blows, in store. New crop are quoted at $6,50 to $7 50 per bbl, according to quality.

HAY—Continues exceedingly dull; Baled may be quoted at $12 to $18 for common to prime. Wagon Hay is selling at scales at $15 to $20.

SEEDS—We can report a small sale of Flaxseed at $2,55. No demand whatever for Clover or Timothy.

SALT—Is dull and nominally unchanged—$1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

GRAIN—There was some inquiry for Wheat to-day, and $2,30 is now offered for Red Winter, and $2,35 asked; Spring Wheat does not seem to be wanted, and there is but little of any kind here. Corn is dull but unchanged; sales of 900 bushels Yellow (Shelled) at $1,04, and 400 bushels White (Shelled) at $1,02; Prime Ear Corn may be quoted at $1,06 to $1,08. Rye is dull and nominal at $1,50. Oats quiet and unchanged; we continue to quote at 78 to 80c, on track and wharf, and 82 to 83c for small lots in store.

LARD OIL—Is quoted at $1,23 to $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,43 to $1,45 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady at 13½c for Shoulders; 15½c to 17½c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 17½c for Plain Hams; 19c for Plain Sugar Cured, and 19½ to 20c for Canvassed do. Lard, 18¼ to 18½c, for prime kettle rendered. Dried Beef, 22 to 23c. Mess Pork, $28 to $28,50.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 17, 1868.

CRUDE—The market was again very quiet to-day, but a single sale reported, 2,000 bbls for July, seller's option, at 13c. Spot oil is very quiet, and, in the absence of sales, may be quoted at 12¾ to 13c. It may seem strange, yet, it is nevertheless true, that oil is relatively higher at Oil City than it is here; sales are now being made at that point, which, after deducting cost of transportation, could not be realized in this market. This, we understand, is owing to the fact that freights are relatively cheaper from there to Cleveland, Philadelphia and New York, thus affording buyers from these points to pay more for oil than can be paid by operators for this market.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was unusually active to-day, the reported sales being unusually large, larger, we believe, than during any preceding day this year, reaching in the aggregate twenty-one thousand barrels; prices however, compared with yesterday, are off, fully half a cent, but as will be seen, there must have been a very brisk demand at the reduction. The sales were as follows: 500 each, August to December, at 32½ 500 for same, at 32¼ 500 for same at 32⅛; 1,000 each August and September on private terms; 500 each for September and October, at 33; two lots of 500 each for last half July at 32; 500 each August to November at 33; 500 August to October as 33; and—last evening,—1,500 each for August to November at 33⅛.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported to-day were as follows:

Lockhart & Frew	720	D. M. Edgerton.	640
W. McCutcheon.	50	John Shear.....	100

THE SUMMER FASHIONS.

[From the Boston Post.]

THE NO BONNET

has come at last; it has been expected that bonnets would come to that for some time, and really the substitute made of a few yards of narrow ribbon, with lace or fringe edges, looks about as much like a bonnet when it is on the head as the bits of straw and lace, which come under the proper name. The "Lea," as the new style is called, consists of ten double loops of narrow ribbon, five to each band, mounted on a strip of foundation muslin an inch in width, covered with silk, the same color as the ribbon; this makes two bands of five loops each, which are fastened to a length of ribbon, sufficient to pass round the head and tie under the hair behind. Properly arranged, one band is placed across the top of the head, and the other over the comb or chignon, and when the ends are tied behind, few would suppose that any difference existed between it and bonnets sold for twenty-five dollars each. For summer watering place wear, they would be immense, as ladies could make a new one every day while waiting for the carriage to drive around, if they wanted to, and pack seventy-five of them in one small hat-box. Another new idea in bonnets is the introduction of a ruff more imposing than Queen Elizabeth's; it consists of a fall of fluted tulle which passes across the back of the bonnet, descends to the shoulders, and forms a square necklace upon the breast. A third imported oddity has blonde strings, which fasten with an ornament upon the breast, and then dividing off, are narrow low down upon the sides of the dress, where the ends of lace are fastened with a bow and ends of ribbon.

is a new little bonnet of straw, the rim of which rolls over in the front, instead of standing straight up. It is usually trimmed with leaves and with a scarf of real lace, which is fastened at the back with a rosette of ribbon, and forms second strings in front. Leaves mounted on spiral and flexible stems are this season among the most fashionable of ornaments. They have almost superseded flowers; some are rich with the brown of the forest, others are touched with fire, and still others shine with a brilliant metallic green. The newest and prettiest, however, are the leaves and flowers of mother-of-pearl, which in the natural tints composes exquisite ornaments for turquoise-blue bonnets. The most elegant bonnets for visiting are now made of lace embroidered by hand, ornamented with colored blonde edging and leaves of mother-of-pearl exactly matched, sometimes an aigrette of mother-of-pearl is stylishly placed high on one side of the front. The newest and most distinguished round hats bear a striking resemblance to the hat worn by Ristori as Marie Antoinette. The crown is not quite so high, nor the brim so broad, but otherwise it is like it, the same in outline and in the coquetry of its somewhat wide flexible brim. Plain round hats of Marseilles or coutille, some corded, others pounted or scolloped upon the edge have been adopted by many ladies for traveling purposes for years past because they can be "done up," and are injuriously affected by no accident of weather. In this respect they have the advantage of white muslin bonnets, although the latter while fresh are more becoming. Round hats of Marseilles can be bought at ladies furnishing establishments and cost from three to five dollars each.

The new and pretty summer wraps are in the burnous style. They are made in striped silks and grenadine, the silk chene and richly mounted with tassels and heavy cord. There are also Abyssinian burnous, the stripes of rough unbleached linen alternating with stripes of Japanese unbleached silk, upon which are printed small Arabic characters. More dressy mantilles are made of white grenadine, with mantilla backs, shawl basquine fronts which cross over, and long pointed hoods. They are trimmed with handsome crimped tassels and crimped tasselled fringe, in some bright color. The "Countess," a variation of the Marie Antoinette, is a very graceful fichu, with lace hood, square tabs in front, trimmed with lace and fastened down under a belt, to which a wide sash with bows are attached at the back, the ends of the sash being trimmed with lace. Water-proof cloaks are now made with a deep cape instead of a hood, the cape caught up at the back with two rosettes in the "Colleen Bawn" style. Scotch tartan makes a more stylish traveling wrap than water-proof cloth, and is very distingue made in the style above mentioned with rosettes of silk in the color of the plaid.

MORNING WRAPPERS AND COTTON DRESSES.

Several correspondents, some from distant parts of the country, have written to know how to make calico dresses. Morning, of which every lady needs one or two, are gored plain, buttoned down the front, trimmed with a narrow border in a chintz pattern or a plain cambric stitched on and finished with two little pockets. Such wrappers as these of prints of small patterns can be bought ready made at a fashionable house for four and a half dollars each. Wrappers cut in the same way are made in white piquè and trimmed with white or colored braid for nine or twelve dollars, and in unbleached linen trimmed with white braid (several rows) for nine dollars. These prices are scarcely in advance of the cost of the material and making. I had almost forgotten to say that a sash belt (not a dressy affair) is attached to the back and tied in front. The ends are a little wider than the belt part and are finished with braid. Dresses of plain cambric or calico are pretty, made with deep yokes stitched in very narrow tucks and outlined with a narrow double frill of the same, through the centre of which a cord runs. The skirt should be very narrow at the top and finished with a flounce, which, like that of the waist, will serve as a heading. Flat braid or narrow chintz border stitched on may be used instead of the ruffling. The sleeves are slightly fulled at the top and trimmed on the back and at the waist to match. The waist is finished with a belt.

White and light silks are used for elegant parasols this season, either covered with black lace or embroidered in colors the Breton or Algerine designs. Beading has not gone out altogether, but it is not so fashionable as it was. Black silk parasols, instead of beading or jet embroidery, are ornamented with narrow ruffles, notched out upon the edge and scalloped. Parasols for little girls are also trimmed in this way, and are commonly made of light small checks, trimmed with very narrow ruffles in the contrasting colors. In linen collars "Oxford" is the latest style. It is very narrow at the back, and in front part describes deep points upon the shoulders. It is quite taking the place of the "Shakespeare," which has been in vogue so long.

A FREE trade sheet tells us that "the protective policy is purely British doctrine." True; and it still is a British doctrine to protect her own interests by preaching free trade to her neighbors whose markets she desires to enter with her goods. Great Britain's policy in regard to herself is as much protective as it ever was.

Killing Kings.

History swarms with plots for assassinating kings, and a large number have lived for years in daily dread of a murderer, yet the number of successful murderers is so small as scarcely to justify an insurance office in demanding a higher premium. The last and present rulers of France have been the object of most elaborate and well contrived plots; but though no precaution which prudence could have suggested was neglected by Fiesch, Orsini, and their imitators, the only result of their attempts was the slaughter of a certain number of innocent people.

The attempts against our own Queen were apparently less serious, and may probably be regarded as symptoms of the strange disease which leads people to seek notoriety of any kind at any price. Their failure can, therefore, hardly be reckoned as instances of the extreme difficulty of the performance. But the diabolical attempt at killing the Duke of Edinburgh was carried out with the most deliberate resolution, and, indeed, came far nearer to success than most crimes of the kind. Yet, with the exception of the murder of President Lincoln—and it must be admitted that they do some things better in America—no assassination of the ruler of any country has been successfully executed within our time.

Are we to put down this curious immunity to a providential interposition which perhaps does not extend to the President of a Republic, or can we account for the phenomenon on simpler principles? It is the necessity of all royal persons to appear frequently in public, and to give the fullest notice of time and place. An indefinite number of people have some fancied interest in removing them; or, if they have no conceivable interest, many persons, as is unfortunately obvious, are fascinated by the suggestion of doing something, the criminality of which is only equaled by its stupidity.

Why should not any resolute man take a knife or a pistol, and make certain of bringing down an unarmed adversary to whom he has unrestrained opportunities of access? There is no one who cannot, by taking a little pains, get within a few feet of any reigning monarch—so near that, if the King were a partridge, he might count with certainty on bagging his victim. Considering the cheapness of revolvers, it seems really surprising that so easy a mark is not more frequently hit.

Probably the simplest explanation is the true one—namely, that nine-tenths of mankind are at bottom undeniable cowards, especially if cowardice means unsteadiness of nerve under excitement. We are in the habit of carefully concealing the fact from ourselves and each other; and history, which is said to be the result of a general conspiracy to conceal the truth, is probably less trustworthy on this than on any other point.

THE wheat on the prairie lands of Western Missouri is nearly ready for the sickle. It is far more than an average crop, the heads bearing heavily with grain. Old farmers say that for ten years there has been nothing like it. Through the agricultural portion of Kansas, from this point to the mineral regions of the further West the crop is equally promising. The average yield will be thirty five bushels to the acre, but in some bottom lands it will reach fifty.

MEDICAL.

A GREAT CURE OF ASTHMA.

I feel myself under obligations to you, as well as a duty I owe to others who have been like sufferers with myself, in order that they may know where they can get cured. I had been subject to violent, continued attacks of ASTHMA for more than six years, and had been to great expense and to various medical men of experience without obtaining any permanent relief, or relieved at all. I was so bad that I never knew what it was to be free from the disease. I had to sit up in bed every night for weeks and weeks, without any prospect or hope of cure. My condition was such that I felt life a burthen, and when I got an attack I felt in danger of suffocating every moment. So terrible had been my suffering that my mother says that she has seen me so near suffocation that I was nearly black in the face from the desperate efforts made to get breath. In the cold winter nights, many a night, with the doors and windows of the house thrown wide open, in order to hinder the apparent danger of strangulation. In this condition, on the 13th of October, 1866, having heard of DR. KEYSER'S skill in curing this disease, I called on him, in company with my husband, Joseph Meyers, but I must confess with a great deal of doubt as to effecting a permanent cure. DR. KEYSER examined me carefully, and my lungs all over, with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that with care I would get well. I persevered with his medicines for over a year, and am to-day in vigorous health, and totally FREE FROM THE ASTHMA, and its terribly disagreeable attendants. I have had, once in a while, a slight attack of the disease, but I regard my health as entirely re-established, and if I do have any attack, a few doses of the Doctor's medicine immediately relieves it. I cannot feel too thankful for the exemption from a disease which used to cost me whole weeks and months of loss of sleep, besides suffering which none but those who are subject to this disease can fully appreciate or describe.

NANCY MEYERS,
MARY MOUNT JOY, (her mother,)
GEORGIANA FISHER.

Birmingham, Dec. 9, 1867.

The case of Mrs. Meyers, recited above, is one of more than ordinary importance, because of the violence of the attacks, their continued length, and the great prostration of all the vital powers attending the disease. Any one who knew her during the time she was a sufferer from the disease of which she was cured, and will look at her now, the very picture of robust health, cannot but admit that the cure is one of more than ordinary character, inasmuch as we hear of Asthma every day of our lives, being a disease of an incurable nature. Let those who doubt investigate for themselves.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we allluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher has been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like her's are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery. We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

September 18th, 1867.

The case above referred to was entirely cured by medicines to purify the blood, and it is witnessed by scores of persons who have known Miss Fisher, and have a knowledge of her total restoration to health and the recovery of her sight, as the accompanying letter of her brother sets forth:

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that I have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of GEORGE FORD, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there I called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondence, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but that he had great hopes and that by perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well: all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by DR. KEYSER was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1868.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

Statement of John G. Wigham, of Turtle Creek, Allegheny county:

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough, and fell away in strength and flesh, and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood, and afterwards to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DR. KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of, and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under DR. KEYSER'S medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of DR. KEYSER'S treatment and medicines.

THE GREAT REB

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

The dogs are not to be poisoned this year. They will be impounded.

The supply of lager beer for the coming summer is said to be quite small.

The work on the new steeples of St. Paul's Cathedral is rapidly progressing.

The Police have adopted a peculiar whistle as a signal, almost entirely ignoring the mace.

The Fruit in this neighborhood promises unusually well. Peaches will be very plenty.

Sheffield street, in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, is one of the finest thoroughfares in either city.

The income returns are refused for publication by the Assessor of this district. It is hinted that they show a woful decrease from last year.

An inebriated fellow called "watch" on Fifth street at an early hour this morning, and disappeared before the "Charlies" could get to him.

It is seriously urged that to properly accommodate the young men who congregate on Fifth street the pavements should be made much wider.

Street Improvement.—A large force of workmen are engaged in grading Fayette street, in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, preparatory to its being paved.

Improving.—The woman Ann McFarland who was cut on the head with a hatchet by her husband, an account of which we published was slightly better yesterday.

Strawberries.—The price of Strawberries is declining rapidly. They sold in market yesterday at sixteen cents per quart. They are very fine this season, and in great abundance.

Fight.—A fight occurred last night about eleven o'clock, in Virgin alley, which resulted in calling a squad of police to the spot, the fight however being over before any of them arrived.

The boat race between Coulter and Hamill will take place to-day. Considerable interest is manifested in the affair here. The bets are about even. In to-morrow's issue we will be able to give the result.

Larceny.—John Gillespie charged James Cain before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, with the larceny of a lot of lumber from the bank of the Allegheny river. He failed to prove it, however, and the accused was discharged.

A young and promising business man has been detected in a series of forgeries, using the name of a rich relative by marriage to secure funds from accommodating bankers. We will hereafter publish the full particulars.

Will Meet This Evening.—The Allegheny City Republican Executive Committee meets this evening, at City Hall, at 8 o'clock. As this is the first meeting the present campaign, all persons interested should attend.

James Dougherty, who was struck with a two pound weight by Thomas Hart, the circumstances of which we noticed in yesterday's GAZETTE, is reported to be sinking rapidly and it is feared that his injuries will prove fatal.

New Sewer.—Workmen are engaged in constructing a private sewer on West Commons, Allegheny, from the residences of Henry Irwin and James Patton, Esq., to connect with the main sewer of the city, which crosses the Commons.

Alteration.—The Columbia Hook and Ladder Company of Allegheny have altered their ladder truck so as to have their apparatus rest upon rollers above the axles, instead of below as before, and it can now be handled much easier and quicker.

Disorderly.—Thomas Divine alleges that Sarah Mitchell called him all sorts of names and acted otherwise very disorderly in the neighborhood in which he lives, for which he makes information against her for disorderly conduct. A warrant was issued by Alderman Thomas.

Light Weights.—H. B. Lyon, sealer of weights and measures, made information before Alderman Humbert yesterday, against John McKenna, for using measures which he had condemned. The measures were confiscate and defendant released upon payment of costs.

Inquest.—Alderman G. M. Irwin, in the absence of Coroner Clawson, held an inquest yesterday evening on the body of William Peters, who was killed by a fall from a cherry tree, an account of which was given in yesterday's issue. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Grand Vocal Concert.—We would again remind our readers of the grand vocal concert to be given this eveing in the Second U. P. Church of this city, for the benefit of the Eighth Ward Mission School. We hope there will be such an attendance as is justly due such a benevolent institution.

Attack on a Boy.—E. R. Newland, made information yesterday before Alderman Thomas, against C. C. Craft, for assault and battery. Newland states that Craft attacked his son, H. R. Newland, on Boyd Hill, striking him on the side of the head with a club, and abusing him. Warrant issued.

Violating City Ordinance.—John Oxenhart and W. A. Armstrong were taken before Alderman Humbert yesterday for a violation of a city ordinance, in allowing their wagons to stand on Market street during market hours. After paying the costs they were discharged, this being their first offense.

Accident.—On Tuesday last, James Singer, a lad about twelve years of age, met with a serious accident. It appears that he was practicing on a turning pole, when he fell, stiking his head violently against the bars of an iron fence, inflicting a very severe wound on the temple. He was carried to his home on Lacock street Allegheny, and his injuries attended to.

Fugitive Arrested.—William Rea, a fugitive from justice, was arrested yesterday by officers Fowler and Lieutenant Wilmot and taken before the Mayor, who committed him to jail. It is alleged that he broke jail at Portsmouth, Sciota county, Ohio, May 25th, where he was confined on a charge of larceny. The authorities at Portsmouth have been notified of his arrest.

High School Commencement.—The Commencement exercises of the Pittsburgh High School will take place at their hall, on Wood street, on Friday evening, the 19th inst., at 7½ o'clock. The programme is of a varied and interesting character, comprising orations and essays, interspersed with musical selections, and closing with the valedictory address by Miss Anna M. Asper.

Ordinance Violated.—Peter Dressler, market constable, made information yesterday against Robert Burch for violation of city ordinance and interference with him in the discharge of his duties by letting down the chains stretched across the Diamond during market hours. Burch plead ignorance of the law, and as it was his first offence, upon payment of costs he was discharged.

MURDER BY POISON.

Trial of Louis Lane for the Murder of His Wife.

Wednesday morning, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judges Sterrett and Stowe, the case of the Commonwealth vs. Louis Lane, a colored man, resident in the city, indicted for the murder of his wife by administering to her arsenic, was taken up, Wm. T. Haines and John C. McCarthy, Esqs., appearing as counsel for the prisoner, and Col. L. B. Duff, District Attorney, assisted by W. A. Leggate, Esq., for the Commonwealth.

Mr. Haines prayed that the prisoner be rearraigned, for the reason that at the time of his arraignment on Saturday last he was without counsel. He stated that to proceed with the trial under the present arraignment would be prejudicial to the prisoner.

The District Attorney not objecting, and the Court seeing no legal obstacle in the way, allowed the prisoner to withdraw his plea of guilty, and ordered a rearraignment.

Mr. Haines interposed and moved to quash the indictment—

I. On the ground that the inquisition upon which the commitment, and all subsequent proceedings are founded, is invalid, and for the following reasons, viz:

1. Because an Alderman has no jurisdiction, at common law, to act as Coroner, nor has such jurisdiction been conferred upon him by any act of Assembly.

2. Because, even if the act of May 27, 1841, sec. 15, can be construed so as to include Aldermen under the designation of "Justices of the Peace," yet the emergency upon which such jurisdiction is alone founded, viz: the inability of the Coroner to attend, or, as stated more forcibly in a subsequent act, the impracticability of his attendance, did not arise.

3. Because the act of May 27, 1841, section 15, requires the inquisition taken by a Justice of the Peace, under the authority conferred by it, to be certified to the Court of Quarter Sessions, and that the Court shall adjudge the case justified his interference as Coroner pro hac vice, and that the proceedings are, in other respects, regular.

II. Because the District Attorney did not sign the indictment, and that the act, or that portion thereof requiring the Assistant District Attorney to sign the name of the District Attorney to the bill of indictment, is unconstitutional.

III. Because the indictment against the prisoner in this cause was returned a true bill by the grand jury through the illegal interference of the Assistant District Attorney, he being in the room the whole time of said finding, examining witnesses, and acting for the Commonwealth in the presence of said jurors, and co-operating with them, the same being in violation of law and contrary to the official oath of the said jurors.

IV. Because the indictment was not submitted to the grand jury by the District Attorney, and that the act, or that portion thereof requiring the Assistant District Attorney to submit bills of indictment to the grand jury, is unconstitutional.

V. Because none of the names of the witnesses appearing before the grand jury, and sworn by them, were marked on the indictment by the District Attorney, or by any person authorized so to do, and the finding is therefore illegal.

Mr. Haines, in response to an inquiry of Judge Sterrett, stated the prisoner was committed by Alderman Butler, who signed the commitment as "acting Coroner."

The motion to quash was overruled, the Court declining to allow such a motion for anything which did not appear on the face of the indictment itself.

The prisoner was then arraigned in due form for the murder of his wife, Henrietta, on the 9th of May, 1868, plead "not guilty," and desired to be tried by God and his country. Clerk Brown responded, "may God send you a just deliverance."

The impannelling of the jury was commenced at eleven o'clock, and at twelve the following jurors appeared in the box:

John C. Merriman,	John Cowan,
John Dean,	Samuel Campbell,
John K. Hunter,	Abner Bedell,
Alexander English,	Wm. Euler,
W. W. Hastings,	Wm. Daniels,
James Calhoun,	Robert Morrow.

The jurors having "hearkened unto the cause of the prisoner," in listening to the reading of the indictment, Mr. Leggate formally opened the case to the jury. The issue was one of life or death to the prisoner. Murder by poison, and, as in this case, by one of the most deadly poisons in nature, arsenic, was of the highest degree. There could be no question as to the moral turpitude of a person guilty of such a murder. Mr. L. briefly narrated the circumstances pointing to the guilt of the prisoner. The jury were simply to determine whether the prisoner administered the poison which caused death. The law determined the degree of the crime.

Fleming Kenney, colored, was the first witness called—Reside in Kief's court, on Wylie street, in the city. Knew Henrietta Lane; she died on Saturday morning, May 9th, last, in Kief's court. She was taken sick on the Thursday previous, in the afternoon; she was standing in the yard, before my door; she was vomiting, and desired me to go and get her some whiskey; told her I would rather not, as Lane, her husband, might make a fuss about it; she said she was very unwell, and wanted something to stop her vomiting; she did not at that time further describe her complaint; saw her no more until after she was dead.

No cross-examination.

Mrs. Grace Allison, sworn—Live in Kief's Court, Wylie street; knew Mrs. Lane; saw her in her house on Thursday, May 7th, about eleven o'clock; she was very well at that time; saw her next about half-past one; she was then vomiting and purging; she was sitting at a table; I handed her a cup of water; she said "my insides are burning up." I lived the second or third door from her. Lane, the prisoner, was home to dinner on that day; saw no one else go into his house. Saw Mrs. Lane again about five o'clock on Thursday; did not speak to her or see her afterwards until she was dead.

Mrs. Mary Kenney, sworn—I am the wife of Fleming Kenney. Knew Henrietta Lane; on Thursday, May 7th, at twelve o'clock, she was vomiting so she could not speak; did not see her again until Saturday morning, when she was dying.

Cross-examined—Lane would not permit people to go into his apartment; forbid any of us from associating with his wife.

Emily Reed, sworn—Knew Mrs. Lane; saw her on Thursday morning previous to her death; saw her next morning lying in bed; went in to get a broom she had borrowed; Lane was there at the time; Mrs. Lane made no complaint, but heard her groaning; did not go into the house, but just to the steps. Think I saw Mrs. Lane on Thursday afternoon vomiting and purging; she said she thought she was going to die—that she was "almost burning up inside."

Rachel Kenney, sworn—Am a daughter of Fleming Kenney. Saw Mrs. Lane in bed on Friday morning; she was vomiting and purging. Did not see her any more; tried to get into her house; the door was locked.

Dr. McNary, sworn—On the morning of the 9th of May was called on by Dr. Black to assist in making a post mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Lane; saw the body about ten o'clock; portions of it were still warm; then went to Alderman Lindsey's office where the Coroner's inquest was sitting.

Mr. Haines objected to any testimony from this witness in relation to the post mortem, or anything that was done under the direction of the acting Coroner, being one of the grounds in support of the motion to quash the indictment.

Objection overruled and exception sealed.

Witness proceeded: In connection with Dr. Black I made an examination of the body of Mrs. Lane; took out the stomach, tied it at both ends and delivered it to Dr. Black; saw no unnatural appearances about the body.

Dr. A. W. Black, sworn—Was with Dr. McNary when he made an examination of the body of Mrs. Lane; assisted him in taking out the stomach; put the stomach in a small stone jar; covered it and gave it to Alderman Butler.

Alderman J. A. Butler, sworn—Received from Dr. Black a stone jar, which he stated contained the stomach of Mrs. Henrietta Lane; I delivered the jar to Professor Wuth.

Cross-examined—Dr. Black pointed to the stone jar in a cupboard in my office, and told me to take charge of it.

Dr. Black recalled—Placed the jar in a cupboard in Alderman Butler's office, and waited till the Alderman came; then went with him to the cupboard, pointed out the jar containing the stomach, and told him to take charge of it.

Otto Wuth, sworn—Am a practical chemist; commenced the study of chemistry in 1851, in Germany. [Witness proposed to read from manuscript what he had to testify, stating he could not speak English distinctly, and preferred this mode as being more satisfactory to himself. Defense objected, but would consent to witness refreshing his recollection by referring to the manuscript. Judge Stowe said the reading of the manuscript might be considered as refreshing recollection. Defense objected to witness testifying for the same reason as urged in the case of Dr. McNary. Objection overruled.]

Witness continued: Alderman Butler, in company with Ex-Mayor Lowry, delivered to me a stone jar containing a stomach; also, on May 16th, three small vials and a fragment of glass. Witness then read several pages of an account of the tests, four in number, which he applied, giving a description of each, and describing the manner in which results were arrived at. In fourteen ounces of substance found in the stomach he found seven grains of arsenic. Witness also stated that upon opening the stomach he found the mucus membrane much inflamed, but this he could not say was the result of the presence of arsenic.

At one o'clock the Court took a recess until two.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Prof. Wuth again took the stand and continued the detail of his analysis, exhibiting to the jury the substance, arsenic, which he obtained from the stomach of the deceased, and from the other articles given into his charge by Alderman Butler. He gave it as his professional opinion that from two to three grains of arsenic were sufficient to cause death. The coating on a fragment of a glass vial consisted of arsenious acid; the same was found among some fragments of glass; also found arsenic in a vial; three other small vials contained no poison—two of them contained a substance used in hair dying.

Cross-examined—The greatest possible care is required in analyzing a stomach to arrive at definite results. Made a mistake in my first calculation, and was mistaken in my statement before the Coroner's jury that I found five grains of arsenic. I took four-sevenths of the stomach for the analysis.

Dr. Black was recalled, and described the symptoms of poison by arsenic; among them were vomiting and purging, burning sensation, and great thirst. The sixteenth of a grain was the regular dose of arsenic, and supposed that from two to three grains would be sufficient to cause death.

Cross-examined—There are diseases in which the symptoms are similar to those of poisoning, cholera for instance; but in that disease cramp follows the purging and vomiting. One symptom of poisoning is convulsions.

Dr. McNary, recalled—Symptoms of poisoning consist of excessive thirst, vomiting and purging among others. The sixteenth of a grain being a regular dose, more than that would cause death, the quantity being dependant upon the condition of the subject.

Cross-examined.—Cannot answer the question as to whether there are symptoms in diseases which approximate so closely to arsenical poison as to render it difficult to distinguish.

Mr. Kenney, recalled—Lived in the same house with Mrs. Lane and her husband; they lived in one room in the basement, and we lived above them. Can't say that I know the relations which existed between Mr. Lane and his wife, except what I heard. Heard them quarreling at night after Lane would come home; almost every time he came home they would quarrel, up to the time of Mrs. Lane's death. Never was in his room when Lane was there. On the night before Mrs. Lane took sick I did not hear them quarreling, nor the next day, but did on Friday night, when Mrs. Lane insisted that Lane should go for a doctor; Lane refused, saying he would give her medicine himself. Heard her ask him to go for a doctor about a dozen times. Heard Mrs. Lane groaning, and the disturbance continued during the night. Saw Lane on Thursday when he came to dinner, and saw him go away, between twelve and one o'clock; saw him when he came to supper. On Friday morning he went away, but came back soon and locked the door, and again went away, saying to himself, "I'll keep all you d—— niggers out." He was about the house backwards and forwards on Friday. Did not see his wife. She was in the room when he locked the door and went away.

Cross-examined—Did not see Mrs. Lane in bed on Thursday before she died, and did not so swear before the Coroner's jury; the reporters took it down wrong. Saw her about four o'clock; of my own knowledge I know that she took sick between twelve and one o'clock Thursday. Heard her vomiting about one o'clock. Never spoke a half dozen words to Lane in my life, only to pass the time of day; never had a quarrel with him. Did not swear before the Coroner's jury that Mrs. Lane asked me to go for a doctor. I heard Mrs. Lane ask Lane on Friday night to go for a doctor. Lane and his wife had lived in the house about five months. It was a usual thing for them to quarrel. One night Mrs. Lane was up on my porch, and Lane called her for a d—— b——to come down from that. I have heard her say to him that he was always quarreling with her and she would not stand it. Paid but little attention to the quarreling; thought it not my business. On Friday morning he locked the door with a padlock; don't know that he went away and got the lock.

Emily Reed, recalled—I resided the second door below Mrs. Lane. Had been in the House frequently, not when both were there. Mrs. Lane told me Lane did not allow any person to come in there. Only once heard them quarreling; he had taken her clothes away, and when she asked for them, he said he would burn her up and her bastard, too. Know what he meant when he said that. Mrs. Lane was in a delicate state.

Grace Allison, recalled—Had been in Lane's house almost every day, but never when Lane was there. Do not know of any difficulty between Lane and his wife.

Mrs. Kenney, recalled—Overheard what occurred between Lane and wife, but never paid any attention to it.

Rachel Kenney, recalled—Had been in Lane's house frequently, but only once when Lane was there; once heard him say, when she was outside talking to persons, that if she did not go in he would beat her.

Alderman Butler, recalled—[Witness stated what articles he handed to Professor Wuth, beside the jar containing deceased's stomach.] Picked a fragment of a bottle out of the grate in the office of the jail shortly after the first committal of the prisoner; the other articles I received from officer Shore.

Officer Wm. Shore, sworn—Am constable of the Sixth ward; arrested the prisoner on Wylie street; took him first to Alderman Butler's office, next to his own house, next to Alderman Lindsay's, and next to jail. When he went to his house he got a carpet sack and took it with him. When in the jail office the prisoner threw a bottle into the grate and broke it; prisoner said it was medicine; told him it was rather unfortunate as the circumstance might be brought against him on his trial. Noticed a substance running from the grate, and after a while observed a white substance adhering to the back of the grate, some of which witness and the Deputy Warden scraped off and placed in an envelope; also took out a fragment of the bottle. Prisoner gave as a reason for breaking the bottle that he did not want the people in the jail to know that he had that kind of medicine about him.

Cross-examined—Defendant was going towards his home when I arrested him. He seemed to be in somewhat of a hurry. When we first went to his house he did not get his carpet-sack. After going to Alderman Lindsay's office, where there was a hearing of witnesses before the Coroner's jury, we returned to his house, when he got his carpet-sack, taking it from a nail in the room where his wife lay dead. Prisoner was not out of my sight from the time I arrested him until I gave him in charge to the prison authorities. Witness corrected himself, stating that he left the prisoner in charge of Alderman Butler, while he (witness) went on an errand.

Deputy Warden A. W. Smith sworn—Was in the office of the jail when the prisoner was brought in by officer Shore. Was about to search him when by a quick movement he took something from his pocket with his left hand, passed it to his right hand, and threw it into the grate. (Corroborated Officer Shore as to the nature of the substance taken from the grate, also as to the fragment of a bottle.) There had been fire in the grate in the morning, but it had almost died out at the time. Found three or four small bottles (identifying them) in prisoner's carpet sack, (including the one in which Professor Wuth testified he found arsenic.)

The Commonwealth here rested their case, but by consent the defense were allowed to recall Fleming Kenney for the purpose of further cross-examination.

Mr. Kenney said his testimony before the Coroner's jury was read to him by direction of the acting Coroner, and that he said it was correct, but that it was not published as read over to him.

J. C. McCarthy, Esq., opened the case for the defense. His connection with it, he said, was for no purpose of gain. He (Mr. McC.) and his colleague had been assigned by the Court to conduct the defense, and in pursuance of their duty as counsel had used and would continue to use their best efforts in that behalf. Witnesses, one or two, would be produced to show a different state of circumstances than the prosecution had made appear. One, who had been with Mrs. Lane in her last moments, would testify that she knew of her approaching dissolution, and said her husband "had given her nothing." The fact would also be shown that the prisoner had gone to his wife's relations, informed them of her illness, and requested them to come and see her. Such a state of facts would be shown as would cause a serious doubt as to the guilt of the prisoner.

Mrs. Kief, sworn—My husband was the owner of the property in which Mrs. Lane died. We lived in the front part of the court; always saw her and her husband on good terms; think if there had been any quarreling I would have heard it. Was in Mrs. Lane's house on the morning of her death; was there when she died; at that time she said she was going to die, Lane asked me if I would be so kind as to go in and see his wife, as she was very ill; this was about half-past six in the morning, about ten or fifteen minutes before she died. I asked her if she took or got anything that would cause her death; she said, "no, nothing." Saw Mrs. Lane about five o'clock Thursday evening; she was sitting in her own door sewing a calico dress; saw her no more until Saturday morning.

Cross-examination—Lived two or three houses from Mrs. Lane's. I know very well it was Thursday evening that I saw Mrs. Lane sitting on her steps. It was half-past six o'clock Saturday morning when I went to see her, and she was dead before seven; Mrs. Smith was present when she died. I put the question whether she had taken anything herself, or been given anything which would cause her death, and she said she had not. My reason for asking the question was that Mrs. Allison had reported that Lane had given his wife whisky with poison in it. No person was present when Mrs. Lane answered this question. When I saw that she had lost her speech, I called in others, and in a few moments she died. My exact language to Mrs. Lane was, whether she took anything herself or got anything from Mr. Lane, that brought on her sickness, or would be the instigation of her death, and she answered, "nothing that I know of."

Mrs. Smith, sworn—Live next door to Mrs. Keef, and next door to the house in which Mrs. Lane lived. Was present when Mrs. Lane died; came in about ten minutes before; did not hear her say anything.

Cross-examined—When I went into the room Mrs. Lane was lying in bed with her head on a table alongside; laid her head on the pillow, and in that way she died. Never heard any quarreling between Lane and his wife; could hear talking distinctly in their house.

Dr. Black recalled—Prisoner came to me and wanted me to go and see his wife; asked what was the matter; he said she was dead; in that case I told him I did not think I could do her any good; he seemed very anxious that I should go. Said I would not go unless he would pay me, thinking he would then go away; he said he would pay me; he made the remark that there was a good deal of talk; I then said there would have to be a Coroner's inquest. He started away, then, and soon after I met him, and almost at the moment he was arrested. Witness added that the prisoner tendered him money to go and see his wife, and that he refused to go.

Court at this point adjourned until nine o'clock Thursday morning.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

In the case of Miller vs. Hutchinson—appeal from a judgment—the jury returned a verdict awarding to the plaintiff the sum of $13.80.

Tack Brothers & Co. vs. Jones. Action to recover damages for breach of contract for the delivery of three thousand barrels of oil, which it was alleged defendant refused to receive. On trial.

Following is the trial list for to-day:

District Court—Judges Hampton and Williams.

On motion of T. J. Keenan, Esq., Archibald Stuart, Esq., of Westmoreland county, was duly qualified and admitted as an attorney of this Court.

The argument list was resumed, and at three o'clock P. M. Court adjourned till ten A. M. to-day.

Assault.—Isaac Kahn made information last Tuesday before Alderman Bailie against B. Trauerman for assault and battery. Kahn states that while he was engaged in conversation with a gentleman in White Oak alley, Third ward, Allegheny, Trauerman came up and struck him several blows and otherwise abused him. The case was finally settled by each party paying half the costs and the withdrawal of the information.

First-class Livery and Sale Stables.

Prominent amongst our first-class and well conducted livery stables stands that of Messrs. McNulty & Samson, Nos. 117 and 119 Third street, directly opposite the St. Charles Hotel. They have, during their comparatively brief term in business succeeded in building up a patronage that has grown so large as to demand larger facilities for its accommodation, and no firm in this line of business are more worthy such an endorsement of the public. Mr. McNulty is thoroughly acquainted with every detail of the business, having had long experience in the management of the stables of W. S. Jackson, remaining with him up till the time that he retired from the business, when he (Mr. McNulty) entered the proprietorship and management of the Third street stables. He is always on hand, carefully looks after all horses entrusted to his care for boarding, and having none but the most capable, prompt and sober hostlers and drivers in his employ, sustains high reputation with all who have bestowed their patronage. At the stables will be found a very fine stock, equal to that at any similar establishment in the city, while a splendid assortment of stylish carriages, buggies and other vehicles are kept for hire to transient callers, and no where else in the city can a double or single team be got ready in good style at quicker notice. Our readers are earnestly recommended to favor Messrs. McNulty & Samson with a call for any thing in their line, as we can guarantee in advance that they will be satisfactorily dealt with, and that they will never regret bestowing their patronage on such worthy, careful and enterprising gentlemen. Particular attention is paid to the buying and selling of horses, and any person having any business of that character cannot entrust it to more careful hands.

The Best Family Sewing Machine,

In the world is Singer's New Noiseless Machine. Those of our readers who have not examined this marvel of perfection should call at the salesroom and do so at once, and be convinced that it is the best. It is very remarkable for its quietness, speed, lightness in running, ease of management, simplicity and perfection of parts. It is entirely different from Singer's old machine. The tension is really self-adjusting, running from various thicknesses of goods without change, and the feed motion is so perfect that the operator does not have to hold the goods stretched to prevent puckering even when sewing the finest Swiss or Nainsook. The hemmer is so perfect that it will make any width of hem, and fell in the most beautiful manner with less skill than is required to sew a straight seam on any other machine. The machine works equally well on the finest or coarsest materials, using all sizes of thread from the finest numbers of cotton to heavy patent or linen thread. Do not be influenced by agents of rival machines, who, by misrepresentations, try to prevent customers from examining this machine, knowing that their own will not stand comparison. Prices and terms to suit all. Straw & Morton, corner of St. Clair and Penn streets. TS

Home Sites at Hoboken at Auction.

Perhaps the most important sale of building lots in this neighborhood for a long time past, will be that advertised to take place next Saturday at Hoboken, that delightfully situated site for building purposes on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, seven miles up the pretty Allegheny. The auctioneers, Messrs. Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, announce this sale as positive, and in an advertisement on our fifth page fully describe the property, 125 lots of which will be knocked down peremptorily under the hammer to the highest bidder. FREE excursion trains will leave the Federal street depot at 11:20 o'clock a. m., and at 2:30 o'clock p. m., so that all will be afforded opportunity to visit the grounds and participate in the sales. Never again will there be a more favorable opportunity presented for purchasing desirable sites for suburban residences, beyond the reach of the noise, bustle and smoke of our overcrowded cities.

Examination and Music Contest.

The examination of the Senior Class of the Pittsburgh Female College commences this morning at nine o'clock. This evening the instrumental and vocal music contest will take place in the College Chapel. The doors will open at 7¼ and the contest commence at precisely 7¾ o'clock. The gold medal, the McKee prize, is one of the most beautiful we have ever seen. It is made of the finest gold at the U. S. Mint in Philadelphia, and will be awarded to the best performer on the piano. The Mellor prize, a superb volume of choice music, will be awarded to the best singer. We know of no way in which a more pleasant hour can be enjoyed than by listening to the fair young performers in the elegant chapel of the College.

Market Street.

Yesterday was the first market day since the Mayor issued an order prohibiting teams from passing over that portion of Market street between Fourth and Fifth streets, during market hours, and the order was strictly enforced. Two officers were posted at the corner of Market and Fourth streets and two at the corner of Fifth and Market streets, and remained there until after market hours, prohibiting all teams from passing over the forbidden ground. Those attending the market saw and appreciated the advantage of a rigid enforcement of the order, and it is to be hoped that the rule will be made a permanent one.

To Tourists.

Yesterday we referred to the policy of railroads refusing to issue at reduced prices excursoin tickets to prominent places of summer resort. All lines should not have been included in the number, as by advertisement elsewhere it will be observed that excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates are issued via Niagara Falls and Lake Ontario and the Rapids of the St. Lawrence, to Montreal, Quebec, White Mountains, Lake George, Saratoga, Boston, New York, &c., &c., via the Grand Trunk Railway and Royal Mail Steamers. Those desiring further information will call on Mr. William Bingham, Chronicle Building, Fifth street.

Larceny.

Michael English was arrested yesterday and taken before Alderman Humbert, on a charge of larceny, preferred by Thomas Perry. It appears that English boarded with Geo. Warner, at No. 6 Wilkins street, and left a few days since without settling up. After his departure Perry, who boards at the same house, missed his watch, and at once suspected English as the thief. A warrant was issued for him, and the house was also searched, but without finding the stolen article. No evidence being brought against English he was discharged.

Alleged Larceny.—Thomas Dougherty was arrested at the Rush House about ten o'clock last night, charged by a man named Sampson with stealing his pocketbook, which he said contained $10, and a check for $110. Dougherty was taken to the lock up and Sampson went to the Mayor's office to make information, but before the Mayor could write it out, Sampson was gone.

Cart Overturned.—Yesterday a man who was driving a cart on the side of Observatory Hill, backed his cart too far, and it went over, dragging the horse with it. After some difficulty, the horse was extricated without any serious damage being done.

Deafness—A Man Nearly Eighty Years Old Cured.

The following notice of a cure of deafness was published during last summer, and since then the gentleman has continued entirely well, having called on Dr. Keyser during the present week. It ought to be a source of gratification to those of our readers who for a long time have suffered with chronic maladies, that there should be some one whose skill and ability could be depended on.

There are hundreds of cases of deafness and partial deafness, most of which would be greatly relieved, and many of them entirely cured by appropriate remedies. The case immediately under our notice is that of Mr. Jacob Boobyer, of Greene Tree, Allegheny county, who for a great many years has been afflicted with partial deafness, so that he could not hear the ticking of a watch. The deafness was complete in one ear, in the other only partial, with a continual noise like that made by the escaping of steam. Mr. Boobyer placed himself under Dr. Keyser's treatment late in July and now he is well, and has been so for a month past. The cure seems to be through and what seems to be more remarkable, in the extreme age of the patient, he being in his seventy-ninth year. Mr. Boobyer is a well known and respectable citizen, and has a son in this city. Dr. Keyser's consultation reoms at his residence, No. 120, corner of Penn street and Evans' alley, from 9 A M, until 4 P. M.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The "Great Rebellion or the Last Ditch," notwithstanding the excessively high temperature of the atmosphere, drew a respectably large audience last night. The piece is a good one, is well put upon the stage, and is in every way worthy of success. If writing a criticism however, we would feel compelled to say that in some parts the effect intended to be produced is lost sight of by the actor, and in a few others the parts are overdone by those who play them. These defects might both be easily remedied and it would certainly be a great improvement. The production is a good one, and reflects credit on the author, who has been at a very heavy expense in preparing it, and we hope that he will be rewarded with that success his liberality so richly deserves.

FRANKLIN HALL.—The Museum is still attracting large crowds to Franklin Hall and will doubtless continue to do so while under the management of Major Burnell. Go and see his curiosities.

Elegant Residence and Grounds on Western Avenue.—To-day, Thursday, June 18, at 2½ o'clock P. M., will be sold by auction on the premisee, that elegant residence and grounds corner of Western avenue and Bidwell street, Allegheny City. The mansion is furnished in the most superb style with every convenience imaginable, and the grounds are beautifully ornamented. See advertisement of Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, Auctioneers.

This day by Auction—At Palmer & Phillips' Opera House Auction Rooms, No. 6 Fifth street, a general assortment of Furniture, New Carpets, Pianos, Show Cases, Sewing Machines, Mirrors, Quilts, Queensware, Groceries and Household goods will be sold. At 2 o'clock p. m., a special sale of New Carpets will take place.

Cocoaine.—When barbers use Burnett's Cocoaine it is a sure indication of its merit. Honest and intelligent ones recommend Burnett's Cocoaine.

Good judges think no Flavoring Extract equal to Burnett's. TTsT.

FOR SALE.—HOBOKEN.—The balance of those desirable Lots are now offered at private sale, and any one desirous of fine building sites would do well to make a selection. The village is located on a beautiful and healthy spot, two and a half miles from Sharpsburg, on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, which runs through it, making much more valuable and agreeable. Extensive preparations are now making for erecting a number of fine houses, which will prove an ornament to the town. The remainder of these Lots will be sold on very reasonable rates and on terms exceedingly easy. SILL & SHUTTERLY, Real Estate and Insurance Agents, Lawrenceville.
